ANGLO FLEET SHELLS DUCE'S ARMY

Draft Forms Are Sent to All States

NAZIS ARE RAIDED

Each State To Do Its Own Work

Millions of Forms Will Be Rolling From the Nation's Presses at $1,500,000 Cost

Marshall Called

Army Chief of Staff Is Called to Closed Hearing by Committee

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP)—Distribution of draft registration forms for printing began today, with master copies of the first four blanks speeding by airmail to the 48 states where they will be reproduced by the millions.

The forms en route were the first of the series of 64 cards, questionnaires, placards, booklets and the like which will be needed in the huge task of enrolling 16,500,000 men next month and selecting some of them for military service. The ultimate cost of all draft printing is estimated at $1,500,000.

Preparing in advance for the operation of the draft organization which the President is expected to call into official being today, army and navy selective service officials estimated that 32,000,000 registration cards, 24,000,000 registration certificates and 24,000,000 questionnaires would be required. As the printing orders went out, state draft organizations already were taking form in anticipation of presidential action. Illinois named 284 three-man draft boards subject to official appointment by Mr. Roosevelt. While its action was the first to be reported to Washington headquarters, other states were believed pursuing similar courses.

Marshall Is Called

A House appropriations subcommittee, meanwhile, called Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, to testify at a closed hearing today on President Roosevelt's request on funds for starting the draft.

Mr. Roosevelt asked an additional $1,733,886,976 cash and $207,000,000 contract authorizations for the army, navy and other government branches participating in the defense program.

Informed sources said these sums would be sufficient to meet expenditures for draft training and mobilized National Guardsmen until well into the 1941 calendar year.

Although final congressional action on the appropriations was expected to require several days, all states already have received tentative allotments from it to defray the cost of printing the conscription forms and literature now being distributed.

Mailing Is Started

The army and navy selective service committee started its mailing yesterday with copies of the first four pieces of printed matter that draft registrars will need October 16, when men from 21 through 35 enroll.

The items were: 1. The registration card which every man must fill out; 2. The pocket-size registration certificate each registrant will receive; 3. A form on which the registrars must list every man and his number; and 4. A large reproduction of the registration card bearing enrollment instructions, which will be posted in every registration place for guidance.

Forms Will Be Printed

All forms which must be reproduced less than 3,000,000 times and for which there is no rush will be printed in the government printing office here. In compliance with law, the public printer has signed a waiver allowing the other items to be printed in the several states in the interest of speed.

Printing is being decentralized to avoid bottlenecks or distribution delays such as the World War occurred when entire carload of questionnaires from Washington was sidetracked and lost in the middle west.

All printing bills will be paid by (Continued on Page Five)

Draft Board May Use Auditorium; Approval Awaited

Advisory Board to Inform Registrants Relative to Questionnaires for Conscription

As soon as Governor Herbert H. Lehman has approved the membership of Kingston's draft board plans will be made to open headquarters for the use of the board. Mayor C. J. Heiselman said today that it was possible that the municipal auditorium might be used for the draft board's purposes.

The board members whose names have been forwarded to the governor are Samuel Stern, the optometrist of lower Broadway, William B. Byrne, retired monument manufacturer, and former Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, while the three members of the advisory board are B. C. Van Ingen, former superintendent of schools, Lt.-Col. Frank L. Meagher, principal of the M. J. Michael School, and Attorney Arthur B. Ewig.

Governor Lehman in announcing the selective service plan for the state said that the state will be divided into local board areas on the basis of one local board for not more than 30,000 population. Each board will consist of three members designated by the governor and appointed by the President.

Members of the local boards will be expected to serve without compensation. It will be the duty of the local board to issue questionnaires to registrants, to determine whether the registrant is qualified and to grant deferments.

Will Have Clerks

Each local board will be aided by full time clerical assistants who will be paid.

The governor makes his designation of local board members on recommendations made by the mayor of the city while outside the city the board members are named by the county judge.

An advisory board of three members will be attached to each local board to give assistance and advice to the registrants in preparing answers to the questionnaires, claims and other papers required by the regulations and to act generally in an advisory capacity to registrants.

Attached to each local board will be an examining physician. It will be his duty to examine the registrant called for service.

These examining physicians will be designated by the governor and appointed by the President. They will be expected to serve without compensation.

Medical Advisers

Each local board will have a medical advisory board to be appointed by the governor. These boards will render expert professional opinions on doubtful cases. They will consist principally of six or eight members and will serve without compensation.

Attached to each local board will be a government appeal agent. These appeal agents will be appointed by the President on the recommendation of the governor primarily to represent the interests of the government by filing appeals with appeal boards in cases where the local boards appear to have erred in granting deferred classification to registrants or a disqualification on account of physical deficiencies.

Boards of appeal will be organized to hear appeals from decisions of local boards. The boards will have power to review appeals from rulings of any local board with (Continued on Page Five)

Half Million Dollar Blaze Sweeps Cork Yard

Hampers by intense heat and thick columns of smoke visible as far as Annapolis, 26 miles away, firemen battle the blaze which roared through nine acres of baled cork at the Crown Cork and Seal Company's plant in Baltimore, Md., causing damage, company officials estimated at "more than $500,000." Four of the 300 fire fighters were burned or overcome by smoke. Burning embers dropped dangerously near oil storage tanks of the Standard Oil Company.

Guardsmen Leave Tuesday for Dix, Officers Announce

Recruiting Truck Makes Tour of Area; Guard Goes to Middletown, Newburgh Sunday

Battery A and Headquarters Battery, First Battalion, the two local units of the 156th Field Artillery, will leave for Fort Dix in New Jersey on Tuesday morning, it was announced today at the state armory on Manor avenue.

In the meantime an intensive campaign to recruit the two local units to peacetime strength is being carried on, and to call attention to the need of recruits an army truck in charge of a bugler and a recruiting detail is touring Kingston, and another truck visited Saugerties and vicinity today.

Recruits may enlist for one year instead of the usual three years in the local units.

The trucks of Battery A with a driver and assistant driver on each truck, the group in charge of an officer, will leave Sunday afternoon for Middletown; while the trucks of Headquarters Battery, similarly equipped, will leave for Newburgh.

They will be used to help transport the Second Battalion to Fort Dix on Monday, and will return to Kingston that evening so as to be used in transporting the local units to Fort Dix Tuesday morning.

When the trucks of the local units return to the armory here Monday evening they will be accompanied by all of the trucks of the Second Battalion which will be used in transporting not only the local units but those of Poughkeepsie to Fort Dix the following day.

The hour of departure from the state armory here has not been set as yet.

May Study Ways Firemen Interested

Stillwater, Okla., Sept. 19 (AP)—Twenty-five American firemen will go to London to study new methods of quenching bomb-set fires, if U. S. and British officials approve.

J. Ray Pence, Stillwater fire chief and secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Fire Department Instructors, said many fire chiefs are eager to go. The expedition would be a national defense measure. After six months in the combat area, American firemen would return and train their colleagues in wartime fire-fighting technique.

'Regulars' Poll Two-to-One Lead

Less Than Quarter A. L. P. List Appears; Mutari Gets 42 Votes

An unofficial canvass of the primary vote cast Tuesday indicated the so-called "regulars" of the American Labor Party were winners two to one over the "progressives" in the only contests at the primary election in Ulster county.

Less than a quarter of the enrolled ALP voters appeared at the polls to cast a vote. Of the 262 enrolled ALP voters in the city and county from 67 of the county's 91 election districts, approximately 60 voters cast their ballots Tuesday.

There was a contest for Member of Congress in which 24 ALP voters in the country districts voted and in the city 37 voted for a total of 61 votes cast. George Mutari, Democratic candidate and ALP candidate received 11 votes in the country districts and 31 in the city for a total of 42. Pauline Berman received 13 votes in the county and six in the city for a total of 19 votes.

Sportsmen to Fight New York Action To Close Ashokan

Opinion Is Voiced No Real Emergency Exists of Nature Sufficient to Warrant Act

Voicing an opinion that no emergency exists making necessary the request of New York city to close the waters of the reservoirs to fishing and boating members of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association and other sports clubs of Ulster county, meeting Wednesday evening in the municipal auditorium voted to fight the petition at the public hearing in Albany on September 27.

The meeting last evening was arranged by Nelson W. Snyder, president of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association, and was attended by about 100 sportsmen.

It was brought out at the meeting that even during the days of the World War in 1917-18 the waters of the Ashokan reservoir had not been closed to fishing and boating, and County Judge Andrew J. Cook, Assemblyman J. Edward Conway, County Attorney Roscoe V. Elsworth, and others expressed the opinion that such drastic action was not necessary at this time.

To Circulate Petitions

At the close of the meeting those present took petitions that had been prepared by President Snyder. These petitions will be circulated throughout the county and later presented to Governor Lehman at the public hearing in Albany.

David W. O'Neill of Carmel, Putnam county, a member of the New York State Conservation Council, was introduced by President Snyder, and called attention to the fact that a quarter of a million dollars would be lost to his county, if the reservoirs there were closed to fishing.

Mr. O'Neill said that with the reservoirs open to fishing as usual there would be less chance of sabotage.

"We are going to fight this petition of New York city to close the reservoirs to fishing," said Mr. O'Neill, and he read a letter written him by Commissioner Lithgow Osborne of the State of New York Conservation Department in reply to a letter that Mr. O'Neill had sent Osborne on September 5, protesting against the closing of the reservoirs.

"Keep Shirts On"

Mr. O'Neill said he had written Commissioner Osborne a "hot letter of protest" and that when he did not receive a reply had gone to Albany and found that the commissioner had replied to the letter but it had not been placed in the mail. A clerk turned the letter over to Mr. O'Neill. The letter is dated September 16, and reads as follows:

"I think we must all keep our (Continued on Page 23)

About 170,000 Troops Push Back British in Disorderly Defeat, Graziani Says

Talks Begin

Von Ribbentrop Meets Mussolini in Rome Conference

Rome, Sept. 19 (AP)—Italy has thrown 14 Libyan division (about 170,000 men) in addition to Italian troops into the drive into Egypt and pushed back the British in a disorderly retreat, Marshal Rodolfo Graziani reported to Premier Mussolini today.

The Italian commander's report was made as a high command communiqué disclosed that the British fleet and air force had bombed and shelled Italian positions along 350 miles of the Egyptian and Libyan coast, as well as in east Africa and the Dodecanese Islands, in the eastern Mediterranean.

Graziani was reported to have told Mussolini he used 2,000 motor trucks in the eastward drive which surprised the British.

(Previously it was reported at least two columns were engaged in the invasion, one of the Libyans, and another of Italian troops.) British military experts had estimated (Continued on Page 19)

'Red Fleet' Views U. S. Embodying World in Policy

Moscow, Sept. 19 (AP)—Red Fleet, publication of the Soviet Russian navy, accused the United States today of spreading the Monroe Doctrine to the "whole world" and of planning to occupy the Azores, Madeira, Canary and Cape Verde Islands.

The newspaper declared that occupation of these Portuguese and Spanish bases off the west coast of North Africa "by a strong European power would be a serious menace for the United States and particularly Latin America."

Hence, Red Fleet asserted, the United States is preparing to take over herself.

The article also declared there was an American press campaign to take over French and British colonies in Africa.

"The Monroe Doctrine of America for the Americas, proclaimed 117 years ago, then had the progressive idea of defense of young Latin American republics from intervention by reactionary European countries, particularly monarchist Spain," Red Fleet said.

"Now, under conditions of imperialism, this doctrine acquires a new character and the idea would be expressed better by a formula of the whole world for the North Americans."

Marching Italians Are Target for Guns of British Men-o'-War in Mediterranean

Hints Are Dropped

Berlin Press Says War Might Continue All Winter

(By The Associated Press) The British fleet blazed into action in the Mediterranean today, shelling Italian troops marching along the Libyan-Egyptian coast, while on the home front in London the empire capital's bomb-strafed millions surveyed the havoc from the fiercest night-long assault of the war.

Many victims were feared entombed in southeast London when a German bomber crashed with a full load of bombs, demolishing several buildings.

An official estimate placed the city's casualty toll at 90 killed, 350 seriously wounded.

RAF warplanes retaliated with a smashing attack on German "invasion ports," the London air ministry said, leaving the Nazi-occupied French coast in flames for miles.

The raids hit hardest at Le Havre, Boulogne, Calais, Dunkerque and Ostende—all scenes of German barge and troop concentrations.

Britain's naval action in the Mediterranean was reported in a communiqué by the Italian high command, which said the English men-o-war attacked Fascist troops advancing from Bardia, in Italian Libya, toward Sidi Barrani, 60 miles inside Egypt, already occupied by the Blackshirt advance guard.

"Our air force bombed them (the British ships), forced them to suspend action and put them to flight," Mussolini's high command asserted.

A 10,000-ton cruiser was hit by a torpedo dropped by one of our torpedo planes and was seriously damaged.

No figures were given for Italian troop casualties.

Hints Are Dropped

With the air siege of England reaching a new peak of destructiveness, correspondents at Dover reported the channel was still far too rough for the passage of an invasion armada, and for the first time the Nazi press in Berlin dropped hints that the war might continue through the winter.

If true, Britain appears to have won the first vital round of the war—the fight to stave off defeat until she can muster her great empire forces for the counter-offensive in 1941 heralded by Prime Minister Churchill.

"Important only is total success," said one Berlin newspaper. "Weather, time and speculations about the approaching winter don't count."

Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's newspaper, the National Zeitung, took a more positive tone, however, declaring: "The next mission of the (Rome-Berlin) allies is the unification of all the powers of Italy and Germany for the last round battle against Britain, which is now in a decisive stage."

Berlin reported the weather was "ideal" for relentless major air attacks on England and said Nazi raiders during the night had bombed Liverpool, Newcastle and Birmingham as well as London.

Press Is in Rage

The semi-official German press raged at new British night raids over Germany—striking at Bethel, Hamburg, Oldenburg and Osnabrueck—and asserted that the RAF was conducting a "treacherous" campaign to lay 12 German cities in ruins.

Farmhouses, three hospitals and a charitable institution were hit by British bombs, authorized Nazis said, killing nine and wounding 12.

London reported a German bomb exploded in the courtyard of the world-famed British Museum, containing many rare treasures and the world's largest collection of printed books. Oxford and Regent streets in the busy west end were closed to motor traffic as work crews cleared away heaps of debris.

Willkie Calls for Re-election Of Johnson as Great Liberal

New York Times To Back Willkie

Breaks 32-Year Tradition to Support Republican

New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—The New York Times, which supported Franklin D. Roosevelt for president in 1932 and 1936, came out against a third term today in an editorial supporting Wendell L. Willkie.

The Times, an independent Democratic newspaper, has not supported a Republican presidential candidate since 1908. Observing that it was making its choice in "one of the greatest crises of this nation's history," the paper said it chose Willkie "primarily for these reasons:

"Because we believe he is better equipped than Mr. Roosevelt to provide this country with an adequate defense; because we believe he is a practical liberal who understands the need of increased production; because we believe that the fiscal policies of Mr. Roosevelt have failed disastrously; because we believe that at a time when the traditional safeguards of democracy are falling everywhere it is particularly important to honor and preserve the American tradition against vesting the enormous powers of the presidency in the hands of any man for three consecutive terms in office."

Travels to Los Angeles for Speech at Huge Coliseum; He Visits Plane Factories

Aboard Willkie Train to Los Angeles, Sept. 19 (AP)—After calling throughout southern California for re-election of Senator Hiram Johnson as a "great fighting, fearless liberal," Wendell L. Willkie travelled to Los Angeles today to amplify his views on domestic issues.

Although the Republican Presidential nominee did not disclose in advance the exact subject for an evening address at the Coliseum, his day's program contained a hint that he might discuss the relation of the defense program to American industry.

His schedule allowed time to visit the airplane plants of North American Aviation and the Douglas Aircraft Company.

At the former, ceremonies were arranged for christening an advanced army training ship, described in a folder issued by a southern California Republican committee as the first craft delivered under the defense program.

Touches on Preparedness

Willkie touched on preparedness last night in a speech near the home plate of San Diego's baseball park.

"If we are to defend our country," said a prepared excerpt, "we must put out defense in charge of men who know industry and who (Continued on Page Eight)

Deadline Is Given In Soil Practices

October 31 Is Last Day to Complete Them

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 19—Farmers of Ulster county are reminded that October 31 is the closing date for carrying out soil-building practices under the 1940 agricultural conservation program. To receive credit, practices must be completed by that date, according to Don J. Wickham, head field officer in the state program.

Throughout the state about 76,

000 New York farmers are enrolled. Among the important soil-improving practices carried out this year have been the application of lime and superphosphate, new seedlings of legumes and legume mixtures, perennial grasses for pasture, and green manure crops, and planting of forest trees. Plans are already being made for the 1941 program, Wickham says. As announced from Washington, provisions call for maintenance of adequate food and fiber supplies, and for soil conservation practices that will supply particularly to local areas and to small farms.

As in 1941, a soil-building allowance will be established for each farm, to be earned by carrying out soil-building practices. In addition, a special allowance of $15 will be available on any farm for planting forest trees.

Several provisions are aimed to meet the needs of operators of small farms. One is that at least $20 may be earned on any farm; another is that locally adapted conservation practices, not included in the program, may be carried out where the maximum payment is not more than $20.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Well Oiled
Shreveport, La.—A 27-year-old negro is ill in Charity Hospital, a victim of his own "toothache remedy."

When an aching tooth persistently pained him, he filled his mouth with kerosene and resolved to keep it there until the pain ceased.

After an hour he fell asleep and swallowed the kerosene.

Perfect Test

Harrodsburg, Ky.—Drillers seeking natural gas weren't certain whether they had made a strike. So they struck a match and tossed it down the well.

One worker was burned on the hand in the explosion.

Fashion Note

Kansas City, Kas.—High heels shoes caused Mrs. Dorothy Crowley's downfall.

A district court jury denied her damages in a $15,000 suit against the city. She contended a sidewalk defect caused her to fall but the jury ruled it was her high heels.

Slight Mistake

Kansas City—A motorist wondered why he kept getting traffic tickets even though he conscientiously dropped his nickel in parking meters.

Police Lieut. Barney Mahoney discovered the answer: the motorist was dropping his nickel in meters in back of his car instead of in front, where it belonged.

What, Again!?

Scottsbluff, Neb.—Charles Britton, fourth child of a Sunrise, Wyo., family to undergo an appendicitis operation here within a month, was released from the hospital but attendants got ready for a fifth.

Tom Britton, the father, said that a fifth at home "has a pain in her side—just like the others did."

Reciprocity

Springfield, Ill.—Because Traffic Policeman Edward Ryan was "very courteous" in arresting him for speeding, Emery Huff responded in kind.

Huff paid a fine of $8.35 in a police magistrate's court and then invited the arresting officer to lunch.

Even articles of everyday use are subject to streamlining in this day of change. Latest product to be improved upon is the familiar prescription bottle. First fundamental change in prescription ware in more than half a century, the wider base of the new bottle gives it a lower center of gravity and prevents it from tipping over easily. Its handy, compact size allows it to fit readily on shelves or in purses or pocketbooks. It is "drip-proof," non-slip and has plenty of space for labels.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Sept. 19—A meeting of the "Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen" was held at the art gallery on Monday evening which accomplished much in the way of formative procedure for the next season. It is reported that the Guild had a most successful season, and that they look forward with considerable enthusiasm to the work next year. It is further felt that an organization of this sort is much needed in the community, as it offers an outlet to those who can do constructive work with their hands and the organization since its inception has discovered much of this latent talent.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. N. T. Parker; first vice president, Florence Webster; second vice president, Bruno Zimm; secretary, Mrs. Harry Russ; treasurer, Mrs. Walter Moncur; committee on membership, Mrs. E. Dosch; advisory committee, Mrs. Dyrus Cook; shop (management), Mrs. Judson Smith; publicity, Mrs. Isabelle Daugherty; finance, Miles E. Case; exhibition, Mrs. B. L. Buttrick; nomination, Mrs. Carl Eric Lindin.

Alterations and revisions of the bylaws has resulted in a better set of regulations, governing the society. There will be an exhibition of craftsmen work in the art gallery running from November 20 to November 30. Also there will be a board meeting on or about October 20.

The Junior Order of United American Mechanics will give a turkey supper at Odd Fellows Hall in Bearsville on the evening of Tuesday, September 22. The attendance will be limited to members and their wives.

Elvin Beller, a painter of Carmel, California, is at present visiting in Woodstock. On the evening of Sunday, September 22, he will give a very interesting series of pictures at town hall based on his extensive travels. They will represent scenes from Mexico, the Canadian northwest, Lake Louise, Banff and various other points of scenic and historic interest. This will be a tribute performance for the late Cushman Parker and the proceeds will go to Mrs. Parker, who is receiving the deep sympathy of the community.

Mary Alice Baxter of Worcester, Mass., mother of Mrs. Ira Van Ness, died on September 7. Mrs. Baxter had been operated upon at the Worcester Hospital for cataracts and the operation was very successful. With renewed vision, Mrs. Baxter regained her customary cheerfulness, but died a short time after. Mr. and Mrs. Van Ness attended the funeral services in Worcester and have now returned to their home here. The profound sympathy of the community goes out to the Van Nesses in their loss.

Winter Courses Start October 30

Training Is Offered in Agricultural Fields

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 19—Six winter short courses, starting October 30, are announced by the New York state college of agriculture. Admission is open to both men and women who are at least 18 years of age.

Tuition is free to those who have been residents of New York State for one year previous to registration. Each year more than a hundred persons from all parts of the state get college training which they could not get in any other way or at any other time.

According to Professor C. A. Taylor, in charge, the popularity of these courses is increasing from year to year. They are business and occupational courses, hence no examinations for admission are required. Only a good common school education is required. The courses are given for twelve weeks.

Those available for the 1940-41 season are: General agriculture, for those interested in general crop growing and dairy farming; dairy industry, for those who wish to operate milk plants; poultry, for those who wish to operate poultry plants; fruit growing, for those interested in commercial fruit growing; flower growing, for those interested in commercial flower growing and flower marketing; and vegetable crops, for potato growers and market gardeners.

A 20-page booklet that gives more information about the courses may be had free from the New York state college of agriculture at Ithaca, New York.

New Studebakers on Display Here

Local motorists were given their first peek at the new 1941 Studebaker Champion two-door Club Sedan this week. The new edition of the car that has successfully crashed the lowest price field is larger, has more room, boasts of a more powerful engine, and yet retains the economy of operation that made it a sweepstakes winner in the 1940 Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run with an average of 29.19 miles per gallon. The design is by Raymond Loewy.

Studebaker automobiles for 1941 are highlighted by a new and unusually distinctive slip-stream Land Cruiser. The new Studebakers have arrived in Kingston and are now on display to motorists at the show room of A. F. Doyle, 416 Washington avenue, head of Hurley avenue.

The new Land Cruiser designed by Raymond Loewy, well known for his Stratoliner, railroad and steamship styling, is lower, roomier, sleeker than previous Studebakers.

However, Studebaker is not resting upon its oars with the Land Cruiser models but the entire line has been made roomier and more responsive to the accelerator.

Mr. Doyle says the new 1941 Studebakers are being produced in three lines of models, Champions, Commanders and Presidents. The Champion, low priced car for last year, has been improved and has an unusually wide variety of models this year. Commanders and Presidents are also available in a large number of bodies. The prices for 1941 will remain consistent with Studebaker's competitive spirit.

The Champion of 1941 is bigger, roomier and its six motor now developed 80 horsepower. Silent helical gears and clashless synchronizers in the transmission and automatic choke are two more features added for driving ease and comfort.

Power and agility have both been added to Studebaker Commanders and Presidents. The Commander's 6 cylinder engine now delivers 94 horsepower at 3600 r. p. m. and the President's eight 117 horsepower at 3800 r. p. m. Both power plants have aluminum alloy pistons, cam ground with three rings and pins locked in connecting rods. Camshafts are driven by Celecron gears. The Commander has four bearings and the President motors six. Pump-type fuel feeds, down-draft carburetors, automatic choke, automatic heat control, air cleaners and carburetor mufflers are found in both engines.

Overdrive is available on both Commander and President models. Mr. Doyle invites all motorists to come in and inspect the new models on hand and secure information in detail of other models not yet on display.

Bar Association Takes First Step In Helping Draft

Anticipating a request by the adjutant general of the state of New York for assistance in obtaining the services of the legal profession as government appeal agents under the Selective Service Act, the New York State Bar Association set in motion the initial machinery for the recommendation and appointment of such persons.

At the request of Jackson A. Dykman, chairman of the special committee on national defense of the State Bar Association, President Arthur B. Ewig of the Ulster County Bar Association has recommended the appointment of the following whose names have already been submitted by the chairman:

Judge Joseph M. Fowler, Senator Charles W. Walton, Martin F. Comeau, Arthur B. Ewig, County Judge Andrew J. Cook, Walter J. Miller, Assistant District Attorney Frederick H. Stang, and Joseph A. Hoonbeek of Ellenville, George Rusk of Marlborough, Peter H. Harp of New Paltz and Benjamin Rowe of Saugerties. It was expected that the duties of these appeal agents will be as follows:

To appeal from any deferred classification by a local board which, in the opinion of the appeal agent should be reviewed by the Board of Appeal.

To care for the interests of ignorant registrants and where the decision of the local board is against the interests of such persons and it appears that such persons, due to their own nonculpable ignorance will not take appeals, to inform them of their rights and the method of entering appeals to the Board of Appeal.

To impart to the local board any information which in the opinion of such appeal agent ought to be investigated.

Every registrant and to a certain extent every person in the community is interested in the action of the local board on each particular case. There will be cases in which local boards have been imposed upon but in which persons affected do not desire to inform such boards of facts within their knowledge. It shall be the duty of the government appeal agent to receive such information and prepare appeals in cases where he considers appeals to be in the interest of the government.

All appeals made by government appeal agents shall be in writing and shall set forth all facts in possession of such agent. Should he possess any information which has not been submitted to the local board he shall submit such information to the local board for its action before making the appeal.

Boat Yard Strike In Its Second Day

No Disorder Marks Halt in Local Operations

The strike of boat yard workers along the Rondout creek went into its second day today with both sides holding firm, and no change reported in the status of the strike which was called Wednesday by Local 1447-3 of the International Longshoremen's Association.

Demands for union recognition and an increased wage scale form the basis of the strike, according to union leaders. No disorder has marked the strike, and all was quiet this morning at the boat yards involved. The three yards where the men have been called out are the Christie Scow Corporation, the Lenehan Company and the Island Dock, Inc.

According to union officials approximately 116 men responded to the strike call.

The new wage scale, however, was not to go into effect until October 24 and is based on a 40-hour work week. The men have been paid at the rate of 55 cents an hour, and are asking 62½ cents, which with the shorter work week would make the weekly wage about the same as now.

Rehearsal Friday for Polish Minstrel Show

Alderman "Bill" Houghtaling of the Fourth ward will direct the 7th annual minstrel and ball of the Immaculate Conception parish on Delaware avenue to be held later in the fall, and has called for a first rehearsal of the cast on Friday evening at the school hall at 7:30 o'clock.

Alderman Houghtaling is anxious that all who plan to take part in the minstrels be present at the first rehearsal Friday night.

These annual minstrels have always proven a big hit with the amusement lovers of Kingston, and Alderman Houghtaling is planning to make this 7th annual event even bigger and better than in other years.

ENFORCING TRAFFIC LAWS

The drive by the local police against violators of local traffic ordinances has resulted in the arrests of many local residents as well as non-residents. This reflects most creditably upon the fame of a city where the law is enforced without discrimination between natives and visitors.

Motorists, who speed through stop signs and red lights in business and residential sections of the city, menace the lives of pedestrians and other motor vehicle operators. The police are showing a welcome degree of vigilance in apprehending all motorists who violate traffic laws and such activities will no doubt develop caution among those who through carelessness or recklessness have been breaking the law. Continuance of the drive should result in the reduction of the number of accidents on our city streets.

There will be better observance of local laws when the authorities enforce all the laws.

LESSONS LEARNED FROM DISASTERS

"It's an ill wind that blows no one good," says the old adage. Some of the worst disasters in history have been of service to mankind.

That is true in the case of fire. Every so often a conflagration hits this country, taking a tremendous toll in life and property. And the lessons learned from such ghastly tragedies are applied in an effort to prevent repetition in the future.

The great Baltimore fire in 1904 is a case in point. To most of us it is only a vague memory—but not those whose work it is to control and prevent fire in this country. That fire proved that conflagrations are usually the result of bad structural conditions, in many cases combined with inadequate fire-fighting facilities. Because of this, shortly following the Baltimore disaster, the fire insurance industry, through the National Board of Fire Underwriters, organized an engineering corps to study conflagration conditions. That corps has been working for 36 years, and it has studied and inspected hundreds of cities. Every so often it issues reports, in which recommendations for needed improvements are made—such as better water supply and fire alarm systems, better equipment for fire departments, more intensive training for firemen, improved building codes, etc.

These particular studies are necessarily restricted to larger communities, but smaller centers have benefited. They have applied the experience gained to their needs, and have done excellent work in developing fire control methods for villages and rural areas.

Thus, the conflagrations of the past are helping to prevent possible conflagrations in the future. The work that is being done benefits us all—it is a signal example of public service which knows no class or creed. And, if it is to achieve maximum success, it must have the support of all. Every citizen will have his chance to demonstrate his interest soon—during Fire Prevention Week, which begins October 6.

THE MAINE ELECTION

Results of the Maine election were crowded from the first page of the metropolitan newspapers on September 10 by the war news from Europe. For the Republicans it is perhaps just as well, despite the glowing victory, because this is no time for displaying any undue confidence, in the coming election, or in anything else for that matter.

The fact is, however, that the Maine G.O.P. won a smashing victory. Summer Sewall, the Republican candidate for governor, received about 65 per cent of the total vote cast and his plurality was more than seventy thousand. It rained over the state and the vote was light. Otherwise the plurality would have been the greatest in the history of Maine elections.

Ralph Brewster, running for Congress, had a total percentage of the vote of around 60. That it was less than that of Mr. Sewall's can be explained by the fact that he was running against Louis J. Brann, the best Democratic vote getter of the century in Maine, who was twice elected governor and was defeated for the U. S. Senate in 1936 by only 4,000 plurality.

The result in the congressional races was even more significant. The total Republican vote of the three candidates for Congress was over 66 per cent of the total, about two to one. One of the districts, representing a huge labor vote, is usually debatable, but it went along this time with the other two.

Maine is traditionally a Republican state. It is not, of course, true that as Maine goes so goes the nation. But it is an interesting fact that in the past each time the Republican vote in the September election has been around 60 per cent of the total, the Republicans have swept the country in November.

Therefore the results of the September election can be looked on as a good sign from the Republican standpoint. They should encourage the G.O.P., but only to redouble its efforts looking to the November election.

HOSELESS HOSIERY

A scheme sprung at the convention of American Cosmetics in Chicago may strike many people as a wonderful solution of the stocking problem. It just solves the problem by abolishing the stockings.

It isn't done with mirrors, or even with sang froid, but with a dye preparation which is simply applied to the legs and allowed to dry. Then it looks just like a silk stocking. And it won't run. Neither will it dissolve in the rain or the swimming pool—that is, within any reasonable time.

There are at least two difficulties, though, which may occur to masterminds as they ponder this cosmic problem. First, how are the makers and dispensers of hosiery going to make a living if women en masse take up this new scheme? They have to make a living, don't they? And second, won't those dyed-in-the-limb stockings be even more assailable by insects in summer and frost in winter than the present kind?

It begins to look as if they mean it when they sing, "Britons never shall be slaves."

Modern industry aims to turn everything into something quite different.

Radicals and conservatives are just people who hate different things.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

OPERATIONS REDUCE BLOOD PRESSURE

You are reading from time to time about operations to give relief from the symptoms of high blood pressure. These operations are performed as a last resort, and any relief whatever following these operations can be considered a success, as these patients are likely to be stricken by paralysis, heart, kidney and other diseases.

However, that some special disturbance in the body may be causing high blood pressure and its symptoms and the removal of that disturbance by surgery, rather than operating to relieve the high blood pressure direct should be performed, is the suggestion of Drs. Italo F. Volini and Nathan Flaxman, Chicago, in the Journal of the American Medical Association. They report a total of 28 operations, none of which was performed as direct treatment for high blood pressure; they were operations that needed to be performed and were performed despite the fact that the patient had high blood pressure.

The operations included removal of gall bladder, uterus, and prostate gland, and other surgical conditions. The results were compared with the results of operations performed directly on nerve roots to lower the blood pressure.

All the patients were relieved of their high blood pressure symptoms—headache, pain in chest, nervousness, dizziness, tiredness, sleeplessness—whether the operation was performed for gall bladder, uterus, prostate or other conditions. Some of the patients remained free of their symptoms for about 4 months and others for as long as 9 years, averaging 3 1/2 years. The ages of the patients varied from 26 to 72 years at time of operation. The relief of symptoms was not always in proportion to the amount of the reduction of blood pressure.

The above results, in the opinion of Drs. Volini and Flaxman, were better than those obtained in any of the operations performed directly for high blood pressure by cutting roots of the nerves supplying the blood vessels.

Richelieu

By Carl J. Burckhardt

In such times as these, the backward-reaching quality of the terms we use seem often forgotten. We hear much about "balance of power," for example, and much about encirclement, and almost as much about social changes. We apply them to the problems in hand, and both problems and terms seem new. Of course they are not, as anybody who takes time to read Carl J. Burckhardt's "Richelieu: His Rise to Power" will discover.

When the Cardinal attacked the problems of France he found her encircled in exactly the modern sense, by Spain and the power of the Hapsburgs. His genius led him to attack this problem with a principle which is precisely that of the balance of power. The result justified his course, too; working through Louis XIII, he was able to put down firmly the foundations which supported France through a century or more. He also was able to revise and revitalize a number of conditions within France.

In this volume Burckhardt traces Richelieu's (and Louis XIII's) course through to the time when by the banishment of Marie, the Queen Mother, and the defeat of Gaston, the heir, Louis became actually the ruler of France. It is a sufficient space to make clear Richelieu's astounding gifts and to determine which were greater among these. Of them all it was perhaps his capacity for discovering the weaknesses of his antagonists which did him best service. There is something a little uncanny about this gift, and something almost beautiful in the clever management of his findings. One example is the manner in which he first jockeyed the Queen Mother into an untenable position, and then quietly allowed her to ruin herself.

Burckhardt, who will not admit that Richelieu was a soulless and calculating man, says: "Everything that he achieved was purchased with constant suffering.... Scoldom has the accomplishment of a superhuman task shown so convincingly that here a born fulfiller was at work, who greatly took upon him the full burden of his destiny." He adds that like all great creative forces in history, Richelieu was a little uncanny about this gift, and everything that he achieved was purchased with constant suffering.

It is a pity that this book, which is a masterpiece of history, is not more widely known. It is a pity that this book, which is a masterpiece of history, is not more widely known. It is a pity that this book, which is a masterpiece of history, is not more widely known.

The official board of the Young Peoples' Community Club met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Barley to plan a program for the club for the coming month to be presented to the club at its next regular meeting.

There will be no church services in the Lyonsville Reformed Church this Sunday. The Rev. William Barringer is enjoying a vacation.

There will be no school Friday, September 27, since there is a teachers' conference in Ellenville.

Farmers Interested In Saving the Soil

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Judged by inquiries to the executive secretary of the state soil conservation committee here, New York state farmers are interested in knowing how the recently authorized county soil conservation districts can help them.

Inquiries, according to L. D. Kelsey, the secretary, included questions on how to strip-crop farms and how to run diversion ditches across a hillside which is owned by a number of farmers. Interest has also been shown in the control of erosion on the banks of streams.

Other farmers have inquired whether a district can help to handle water from highways that reaches valuable crop lands. Highway superintendents, on the other hand, are interested in methods that will help farmers to dispose of excessive run-off of water without diverting it to the roads.

Some muckland owners have had their field ditches filled by the erosion of highway shoulders. Another farm group has arranged for a survey of all the land adjacent to a creek which normally affects the tillable land of half a township. One of the most recent questions that has arisen, and which will be presented to the state committee at its next meeting, involves changes in land use and the removal of apple orchards either past their productive years or which have obsolete varieties.

The relation between soil conservation and the agricultural conservation program has confused many folks, it is pointed out. They are not the same. The agricultural conservation program has been in operation for several years and has an enrollment of 70,000 farmers. For carrying out certain farm practices they receive benefit payments. While most of these practices tend to conserve the soil, some aspects of erosion control can be handled better by the creation of soil conservation districts as provided by law, Kelsey says.

The new Y. M. C. A. building on Broadway, which was erected following a successful ten-days campaign to raise $75,000, was expected to be completed and ready for use on September, 1941, and the directors of the "Y" at a meeting held Monday evening, June 16, of that year, engaged Alfred H. Christie as physical director. He was to assume his new duties the first of September of that year.

It was on Tuesday evening, June 17, 1941, that the annual Y. M. C. A. minstrel show was given with three visiting "Y" men as endmen. They were C. W. Stetson, C. A. Gammon and E. K. Jordan, while the three local endmen were H. L. Van Deusen, Gus Bonesteel and Harry Evers.

George Evers had charge of the musical portion of the show, with Arthur A. Davis as interactor. The soloists included Lester C. Elmendorf, Arthur Rowland, William Newkirk, George D. Beckwith and Walter Mackey.

The gentlemen of the chorus included Harold Drautz, Loran Smith, Clarence Shultz, Edward Hillis, Raymond Miller, Robert Spinkroy, Alvin Black, Wilson LeFever, Dan Chandler, George Huler, Edgar Oughletree, Fred Webster, Leroy Dawe, Clarence Schoonmaker, Harry Pierce, Ralph Buley and B. Riker.

Leading Fashion Center

America's newest fashion center is a picturesque village tucked away in the rugged fastness of Idaho's Sawtooth Mountains. This village is Sun Valley, the famous year-round resort, which in four years has risen to an eminent place in the fashion world, not only for winter sports clothes but for summer sports wear and evening dress, as well.

During 1913 in Kingston several plans for the proposed bridge across the Rondout creek were developed and rejected, and the prospects of a bridge ever being constructed loomed a long ways in the future.

However, on September 18, 1920, Governor Alfred E. Smith came to Kingston and with appropriate ceremonies laid the corner stone of the present bridge.

The year 1913 was also an important one in building circles in Kingston for on Sunday, May 18, of that year, impressive ceremonies marked the dedication of the new edifice of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Wurts street. The new church was built during the pastorate of the Rev. Howard E. Snyder.

On Sunday, May 25, 1913, the new parish school of St. Joseph's Church at the corner of Pearl and Wall streets was dedicated with Cardinal Farley officiating at the services, while on Monday following ground was broken for the new club house of Kingston Council, Knights of Columbus, at the corner of Broadway and Andrew street.

With agitation on the part of the city of New York to close the Ashokan reservoir to fishing and boating it is interesting to recall that the new line of the old Ulster & Delaware Railroad around the reservoir had been completed in 1913, and on June 8, of that year, the first train was run over the new loop. No ceremonies, however, marked the event.

It was on Wednesday, May 14, 1913, that the Washington Irving of the Hudson River Day Line, made a trial spin up the Hudson river. Her license for 6,000 made her the world's greatest passenger carrier.

'Appeasement' Truth Will Not Be Known Until Diplomatic Correspondence Is Brought Into Open

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 19.—The truth about "appeasement" probably will not be disclosed to the American people until some aggressive member of the United States Senate succeeds in getting a resolution passed, revealing the entire diplomatic correspondence between the United States and foreign governments during 1938 and 1939 or at least the messages and cablegrams that passed between Washington and American ambassadors and ministers in Europe.

The record would show that the one man in the whole world who thought "appeasement" a mistake was Secretary of State Cordell Hull. He is reported to have expressed his views very forcibly to the Chamberlain government in London both before and after Munich. The President did not share Mr. Hull's realism.

So when Henry Wallace, vice presidential candidate, dragged the "appeasement" issue into the limelight for political purposes this in turn tended to focus particular attention on the part the President himself played in the Munich settlement.

Mr. Roosevelt was eager to see war averted and went as far as possible to prevent hostilities in September, 1938. He telephoned to the American ambassadors abroad personal messages to be conveyed to the dictators and did everything he could to try to force a conference of some kind. The Munich settlement was a direct outgrowth of this effort and the friends of the administration boasted at the time of the role played by the President even though Czechs in America were broken-hearted over Mr. Roosevelt's coldness to their cause.

Unfortunately the desire to make political capital out of simple and carefully phrased messages urging peaceful settlement of the dispute in 1938 was so conspicuous at the time that Republicans expressed their resentment, and the press widely commented on the incident. Mr. Hull had no part in such tactics.

The fact on the other hand is Mr. Roosevelt didn't "sell" Czechoslovakia down the river" and Mr. Willkie didn't say so. What the Republican nominee endeavored to point out was that the term "appeasement" was loosely used by Mr. Wallace with the approval of the President. There is about as much logic in denying everything that is labelled "appeasement" as there is in assuming that the Republicans are the peace-at-any-price party or that the Democrats are the Communist party.

When it suited the administration's purposes politically or otherwise to employ "appeasement" it did so and on the few occasions when American influence was in Europe, American public opinion of all parties acclaimed the effort.

There may come a time when America's influence will have to be exerted again to bring peace and hence for any political candidate to foreclose such a possibility by using the term "appeasement" is to give the impression that the United States will continue a quasi-belligerent attitude long after Europe has laid down its arms.

It is true that the President has blown hot and cold on the matter of American foreign policy as it relates to cooperation with Europe. All through 1938 and 1939 there were occasions when a clear public statement of America's position would have profoundly affected the course of events. Like-wise there were times when American diplomatic representatives abroad were hinting in their informal conversations that the United States would throw the weight of its military power toward the Allies if they became involved in war against Germany.

The record of American diplomats in the last two years is one that would be subject to severe criticism unless all the facts about the then existing circumstances were taken into consideration. There seems no question that American diplomats encouraged the belief that measures short of war would be taken against the Nazis by the United States, but it is also true that there were times before and after Munich when President Roosevelt was tragically indifferent to the fate of Czechoslovakia.

It was plainly a policy of "appeasement" which was in that sense followed before and after Munich, but it is only to say that the United States followed therein the lead of the Chamberlain government in London whose policies were warmly commended to the President by Ambassador Kennedy.

It may be said with emphasis that had Mr. Roosevelt followed Secretary Hull before and after Munich, America would have had no share in the responsibility for the fate of Czechoslovakia which on the record appears to have been acquiesced in by the President and indeed which was boasted about by political spokesmen of the administration as a contributory factor to the patched up peace of 1938.

Just as Daladier and Chamberlain ultimately were criticized for their appeasement at Munich, so Wendell Willkie has not been reluctant to point the finger of inconsistency and vacillation toward an administration in Washington which has been regrettably injecting in the campaign the fallacious issue of "appeasement."

respect to classification and to affirm, modify or reverse the same as the circumstances require.

There will be 24 appeal boards in the state; 13 in New York city and 11 up-state.

The draft boards will not begin to function until several weeks after October 16, when all men between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-five, inclusive, must register for possible military service under the Burke-Wadsworth conscription act. Following the registration, the government will start calling up single men by lottery from among the registrants. These men will report to their local draft boards, which will decide each case on its own merits.

Four Boards Here

Ulster county will be divided into four draft areas and numbers of the boards as follows:

313—Kingston—Entire city of Kingston.

314—Saugerties—Townships of Saugerties, Denning, Hardenburgh, Kingston, Shandaken, Ulster, Woodstock.

315—Rondale—Townships of Esopus, Hurley, Olive, Marbletown, Rochester, Rosendale.

316—New Paltz—Townships of Gardiner, Lloyd, Marlborough, New Paltz, Plattkill, Shawangunk, Wawarsing.

the federal government. While printing contracts can be negotiated in some cases, most will be let after competitive bidding.

May Establish Allowances

While the war department was proceeding with its plans for the conscription, the Senate wrote into the excess profit tax bill a provision enabling the President to establish allowances for dependents of those drafted.

The provision was phrased in broad language purposely in order that Senate and House conferees may work out a more definite plan later. The outlay for dependents is expected to be relatively small at first, because the general policy will be to place men who are supporting other members of their family in a deferred classification. However, they may be drafted later.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the U. S. public health service, said that he had been authorized by a meeting of state health officers to request a $25,000,000 federal appropriation for the treatment of minor physical defects revealed in the forthcoming conscription examinations.

Guardsmen Leave Tuesday for Dix, Officers Announce

Battery will leave Tuesday morning with all their equipment.

There were no applications for enlistment in Battery A made on Wednesday, according to Captain Ernest A. Steuding, the commanding officer. Captain F. L. Coombs of Headquarters Battery said they had received five applications yesterday for his unit, and that the five prospective soldiers had been told to report at the armory today for examination.

Both Captain Steuding and Captain Coombs are very anxious to recruit their units to full peace-time strength before they depart for Fort Dix on Tuesday.

The men of the regiment will be given an opportunity on reaching Fort Dix on Tuesday to enter various schools where they are taught to become cooks, mechanics and other useful trades which will enable them to make a position for themselves when they return to private life after a year of intensive military training.

Sears Had a Payroll Rise Of 32 Per Cent in 1939

Annual payroll expenditure in New York state during 1939 by Sears, Roebuck & Co., totaled $5,493,159 and showed a rise of 32 per cent, Manager R. C. Clements said today, adding that it was the fourth consecutive year that a sizeable increase has been shown. The information was included in a survey sent out in connection with Sear's 54th anniversary celebration, September 12 to 28. It indicated further that for the company as a whole salaries and wages paid out last year totaled $96,088,000, an increase of $17,917,000 over 1938.

During 1939 Sears paid out 1.3 per cent of total sales, or $8,500,000 for voluntary employee benefits, such as profit-sharing, vacations, sick leaves, holidays, etc. This was above wages and salaries and in addition to social security and unemployment compensation payments. The company's profit-sharing fund was started in 1916.

Mr. Clements said that several hundred men and women have been added to the company's payroll for the big anniversary event and many of these will retain part time jobs through the Christmas season.

A thoroughly modern gas range should be attractive in appearance with an enamel finish which will not chip or crack. It should have a super-thrift oven; burners designed to use a minimum amount of gas, but cook fast, which saves gas and reduces meat shrinkage, and the range should be easy to clean, without cracks or crevices.

Rotary District Governor Thinks Britain Will Win

Believes British Are Right and Right Will Always Prevail, He States
at Poughkeepsie

SIR STANLEY SPURLING
Rotary District Governor Sir Stanley Spurling of Pembroke, Bermuda, a member of the Hamilton, Bermuda, Rotary Club, made his official visit to this district Wednesday. The district meeting of the Hudson Valley Rotary Clubs was held at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie and was attended by large delegations from Poughkeepsie, Pawling, Newburgh, Hudson and Kingston.

The district governor in his introductory remarks stated the people of his land were profoundly appreciative of the honor that was bestowed upon him by Rotary of the 174th district. He also congratulated the members on their large representation.

Although a Britisher and a belligerent in a neutral country, the speaker announced he would discuss various phases of the war and its relation to Rotary as it was closest to his heart.

He spoke in part as follows: History will vindicate the cause of Great Britain and England will win the war because the British are right and right will always prevail.

The struggle today in Europe is one of mankind in the evolution of freedom. People who have enjoyed freedom have proven that they were unworthy of exercising these rights. The result has been recessions. There is a great responsibility in free countries in training these people in the exercise of these rights. The schools, churches and press should train people to use these privileges wisely and honestly. The struggle to advance freedom has been lost because people did not cherish these rights.

There is a second reason, the district governor said, for my belief that Great Britain will triumph, and that is the benefits to be derived after the war ends will be greater for the defeated countries than for England. Because it will bring back the principles of freedom to these countries. That there are thousands in these countries that have the same ideals of citizenship as we do is evidenced by the many liquidation camps. The judgment of these peoples today cannot be relied upon because they are hearing but one side of the case. If we in this country served on a jury and heard but one side of a case, we could not render an impartial verdict.

The contest in this country in 1776, the speaker said, was a struggle for certain principles of government and thank God you won for it also brought freedom to our country. This is also the conviction of all British people.

What is Rotary's part in this picture today? the speaker asked. It is its continuance of power and influence for good and its principle of tolerance for men of all race and creed. The prohibition of Rotary in countries being abolished is the best example of its power and influence in bringing together men of different racial stock around a table for discussion, resulting in bettering relations between people.

This war is far different from those fought years ago. Innocent civilians are being killed indiscriminately. These killings are in Germany too, where the people do not share in the controversy. After the war there will be bitterness and hate, the like of which has never existed in any human heart.

This will have to be removed or there will be increased bitterness and hate and more wars and there is no better instrumentality than Rotary to do this task. So therefore it is a duty for us all to keep the spirit of Rotary alive and the opportunity will come for this work as the war will end some time.

There will be problems of an economic nature in the United States because all countries will be affected by the war and the true spirit of Rotary will be looked for by the people.

The district governor concluded his talk with the recitation of the prayer which Lord Nelson said before the battle of Trafalgar.

If per pupil costs of education in New York state were pared to the level of Michigan, it would mean a saving of $117,000,000 annually for taxpayers. "Per pupil costs in New York were on a par with those in Pennsylvania, it would mean a yearly budget reduction of $119,000,000.

Lumber, Coal Yard Burns In Connecticut City

Willimantic, Conn., Sept. 19 (AP)—Fire destroyed the Willimantic Lumber and Coal Company yard, near the heart of this city's business district, today with a loss estimated by Robert Casey, secretary-treasurer, at "over $100,000," which he said was covered by insurance.

Over 100 firemen, drawn from seven departments from nearby rural towns in addition to the Willimantic department, fought the roaring blaze for three hours before it was brought under control, about 6 a. m.

The company's office building, recently modernized at a cost of $10,000, went up in flames, and six buildings near the yard were damaged.

aged, some of them badly. The total damage to these buildings was unofficially estimated at $10,000.

At least three families were driven from their homes.

"Emergency" taxes in New York state are now almost as large as all other normal tax revenues.

Extension Work Will Be Resumed

Local Groups Have Chance to Improve Training

Residents of Kingston and vicinity will again have the opportunity to pursue work in extension courses offered by New York University, it was announced today.

Registration for the following courses begins next week: "Meeting Children's Problems in Reading" will be instructed by Mrs. Martha Sibley and the class will meet Wednesday from 7:15 to 9 o'clock, beginning September 25 in the high school.

This course is intended to meet the teacher's needs, and through them the children's needs. It will be conducted on a classroom basis with the emphasis throughout upon practice rather than theory. Among the many problems which may be studied and solutions of which may be demonstrated are: "How can reading readiness be promoted under the usual classroom conditions?" "What should be included in a modern reading program for the primary, intermediate, and upper grades?" "Shall phonics be taught?" "What shall be done with 'repeaters'?" "What should be done for children, who are not interested in reading?"

"Mental hygiene and personality development will be taught by Dr. Elmer Kilmer and the class will meet on Tuesday from 4:30 to 6:15 o'clock beginning September 24. In this course emphasis will be placed upon the following and their related problems: Factors of the normal personality, behavior disorders of children, biological and psychological factors of delinquency, maladjustments, psychoses of childhood, removal of unnecessary fears, and building productive inhibitions.

"Written English Applied I and II" will be instructed by Mrs. Bess Longfitt and will meet Thursday from 7:15 to 9 o'clock beginning September 26.

This is an opportunity to bring one's written English up to a standard creditable to teachers, regardless of subject taught. There is work in grammar vocabulary building, correct usage, paragraph construction, organization of materials, and in the use of the library. A book of contemporary readings is used to illustrate types of writing, including biography, the critical essay, short story, feature article, verse, and letters. This course is required for the baccalaureate degree in the School of Education. Further information may be obtained by calling 792-W-1 or 1185-W.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Sept. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jock and son spent the week-end with Mrs. Jock's parents in Pennsylvania and while away attended the funeral of their grandmother Friday.

William Everts, Jr., flew to Skaneateles Saturday, returning home Sunday afternoon. While there he visited his mother-in-law and family, Mrs. Frank Everts and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tears of Poughkeepsie and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Birch and daughter spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. M. L. Birch.

The Rev. John W. Tyse attended the autumn conference of the New Brunswick Seminary Monday and Tuesday of this week. Clifford Wilkin Hotaling, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hotaling, died at his home at Sherwood Corners Friday afternoon, September 13, after two months illness of leukemia. Clifford celebrated his ninth birthday on August 21. He was a very bright boy and will be missed by his playmates in the Plains road school, also in the New Hurley Sunday school and junior choir, of which he was an active member. Funeral services were largely attended in the New Hurley Church on Sunday afternoon conducted by the pastor, the Rev. John W. Tyse, assisted by the Rev. Vernon O. Nagel of Selkirk, a former pastor of the New Hurley Church. Burial took place in the family plot in the New Hurley Cemetery. Uncles of the deceased acted as bearers. They were Grow and Crosby Wilkin, Leland Hotaling and Chester Dunn.

There will be regular preaching services in the New Hurley Church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 10:15 o'clock.

The marriage of Mildred Liguori, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Liguori of this place, to Charles DiBella of Brooklyn, son of Mrs. Frances DiBella, took place in the Walden Catholic Church on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The bride was attended by her sister, Mary Liguori, and Salvador Liguori acted as best man. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white brocade satin with long train and net veil. Her bouquet was white roses and baby's breath. The maid of honor wore a brocade pink satin gown with accessories to match and carried pink roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Celano's estate at Clintondale after which they left on a wedding trip to Atlantic City. They will reside in Brooklyn.

A musical will be presented under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the New Hurley Reformed Church Friday evening, September 27, at 8 o'clock in the

New Hurley Church Hall at Sherwood Corners. Songs that some of us remember will be played by the Sunshine Mountaineers of Poughkeepsie. A coming new radio tenor, Billie Lou Broech, will render solos. The committee in charge is Mrs. Gerow Wilkin, Mrs. William DePew and Mrs. J. G. Wending. A small admission fee will be charged.

Willkie Travels To Los Angeles

can get the job done for us without talking.

"We must give these men temporary powers—powers which we shall take away from them when the emergency is over."

Willkie told the crowd, which more than filled the park's 10,000 seats, that "there isn't anybody in this audience who couldn't have failed just as completely as President Roosevelt in building a defense program, for we have none."

Praises Johnson

The candidate's praise of the veteran Senator Johnson, whose foreign policy views have not always agreed with his, was voiced at several train-side appearances yesterday.

He described Johnson as the idol of his boyhood, and added, "such a hero is he today."

"I followed, as all people did," said Willkie, "that matchless career he had as governor of California and then in the United States Senate, where for a quarter of a century he has stood, the fearless champion of liberalism against all comers."

Before Johnson recently won re-nomination on Republican, Democratic and Progressive tickets, President Roosevelt told reporters that the Senator no longer could be considered a liberal.

The Republican nominee began campaigning in California yesterday afternoon following a plane flight from Albuquerque, N. M., with a stop for a speech at Phoenix, Ariz. It was the longest day of speechmaking he has put in so far—nine train platform talks besides the Phoenix and San Diego addresses.

His voice continued good, except for an occasional huskiness. He remained under treatment by Dr. H. D. Barnard, Beverly Hills throat specialist.

Willkie's program today called for an automobile drive from Santa Ana to Los Angeles, touring the city and reaching city hall at 12:15 p. m. Pacific Standard Time. An afternoon meeting was arranged with labor leaders.

Elaborate preparations were being made by Republican committees for tonight's rally, with fireworks, band concerts, and the spinning of a wheel to select members of the audience to meet Willkie personally.

Hinkley Pleads Guilty; Is Fined $75 on Two Counts

James Hinkley, 37, of 124 Hasbrouck avenue, pleaded guilty to charges of operating an automobile while intoxicated and of leaving the scene of an accident, when he was arraigned before Judge Matthew V. Cahill in police court today. The judge imposed a fine of $50 on the drunken driving charge, and a fine of $25 on the other charge. Hinkley's license was also revoked by the court.

Hinkley was arrested shortly after 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the car he was driving collided with a parked truck of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., at South Wall street and Wilbur avenue. The truck was in charge of a two-man crew, Frank G. Clarke of 250 West Chestnut street, and Arthur Hecht of 14 Davis street.

Both Central Hudson men were at work on a transformer at the street intersection at the time the truck was struck, but no personal injuries were reported.

Hinkley was arrested shortly

To Take Testimony On Seaman's Will

Surrogate H. H. Flemming and Harold A. Styles, court stenographer, will go to New York city Friday to take the testimony of a number of witnesses in the matter of proving the will of Malcom B. Dunlop, Dunlop was a seaman on the U. S. Fruit Line steamship Catargo, which sailed from Jacksonville, Fla., on May 28, for the port of New York. He was not seen after 8 o'clock on the morning of May 19 and no trace of him has been found.

On the presumption that he is dead his will has been filed for probate in Ulster county surrogate's court by Mrs. Dunlop, who is a resident of Marlborough. The testimony of seven or eight witnesses is to be taken by Surrogate Flemming Friday.

After the crash by the police. He stated in police court today that he expected to make good the damage to the Central Hudson truck.

Bar Will Conduct Convention in City

Third District Members to Meet September 28

The 11th annual convention and dinner of the Federation of Bar Associations of the Third Judicial District will be held this year in Kingston on Saturday, September 28. Surrogate Harry H. Flemming is president of the federation.

This year the meeting is being called earlier than usual in order to enjoy better weather and consequently have a larger attendance. There will be election of officers.

Arthur B. Ewig, chairman of the program committee, has made arrangements for golf during the morning hours for any delegates who arrive in Kingston early and at 1 o'clock the noon luncheon will be held at the Hotel Stuyvesant. At 2:30 o'clock the business session will be held in the court house. Among the topics for discussion at the afternoon meeting is "Compulsory Automobile Liability Insurance" and "The Lawyers' Part in National Defense Program."

The annual dinner, which will be informal, will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening.

Jones Is Sworn

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP)—Jesse Jones, who said he wasn't very much excited about the job, became secretary of commerce today. He was sworn in by Stanley Reed, associate justice of the Supreme Court, in the presence of President Roosevelt.

The island of Jamaica has an area of 4,000 square miles. Uruguay's constitution of 1919 separated church and state.

Hitler Seems to Be Throwing Strength Into Mediterranean

Blows at Suez Are Aimed At Foundation of Empire

Capitulation of London Still Will Be Tried, Even Though He Might Abandon Invasion Scheme for Time Being to Shift Tactics

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Signs multiply that Hitler, foreseeing the possibility that he may have to postpone his projected invasion of England, is preparing to cast his weight into the battle of the Mediterranean with Mussolini in an effort to crack the British empire from this fresh point of assault.

Britain's domination of the Mediterranean is, of course, one of the imperial foundation stones. It ranks next in importance to the security of Mother England herself—indeed, it might be argued that the two are of equal moment.

As I see it, should this new strategic move be made Hitler will continue his efforts to reduce the British Isles to impotence by bombing. In particular he will try to force capitulation of London or level this ancient capital.

There is no indication that he has as yet abandoned his dangerous scheme of invasion, although he is hard pushed by the circumstance that time and tide of the British channel wait for no man—not even the Nazi fuchrer. In any event he cannot relax his air assault and thus aid England to strengthen its position. He still has vast power to throw to the assistance of his partner.

Support For Idea

Support for this idea of a shift in tactics is seen by many observers in Nazi Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop's arrival in Rome today for a conference with Mussolini. Special significance is attached to the fact that this follows the visit of Spanish Minister of Interior Suner to Berlin—a visit widely interpreted as having to do with an effort to identify Spain more closely with the Berlin-Rome axis activities.

It would be hard to believe that Spanish Generalissimo Franco's actual participation in the war isn't under discussion. However, in view of his country's great weakness as the result of the civil war, it might be that he would be asked to make his initial contribution a grant of bases in his territory for German and

War or No, Bank Held Meeting and Declared Six Per Cent Dividend

London, Sept. 19 (AP)—The directors of the Bank of England met in the vaults far below street level today and, after hearing the report of Montagu Norman, governor, declared a six per cent dividend.

Norman commented briefly on the fact that the meeting had to be held "in this dreary catacomb instead of in a lovely hall."

The bank, he observed, had been somewhat upset and interrupted getting on with its daily business. He also declared precautions have been taken which are expected to "ensure the bank's business will be carried on through all emergencies."

While we are on the subject of oil, I have been asked by a reader to give an estimate of Germany's gas consumption in bombing. I'm sorry but the best we can say is that the amount used is huge, and that future gas supplies undoubtedly are one of the great worries of both Hitler and Il Duce.

I put this question to the expert, who would know the answer if anybody did outside high axis officials. He threw up his hands and said that any figure would be pure guesswork and worthless. Any way, he believes the vital thing is lubricating oil because all manufacturing by machinery, including war industries, depends on it. As I have said, gasoline can be produced synthetically.

Battered and blackened is the front of the John Lewis store in Oxford street, London's fashionable shopping thoroughfare, the day following a German air raid. It was one of three famous stores hit in the raid. Picture cabled from London to New York.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Saugerties, Sept. 19—An exempt firemen's certificate has been issued to Ernest Mazzuca of Washington Hook and Ladder Co. by the board of trustees.

A "Bundles for Britain" benefit card party will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Wilber on Barclay Heights in this village Saturday afternoon. Games will start at 2:30 p. m. and tea will be served at 5 o'clock. Those not playing may come for tea.

The annual entertainment of buyers and distributors of the Martin Cantine Company was held on Monday and Tuesday of this week. The large number was entertained by the officials of the company with a dinner served at the Woodstock Country Club.

The Misses Elizabeth and Eleanor Jones of East Rutherford, N. J., were recent guests of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Dreschler on Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown, who have been spending their vacation at Washington, D. C., have returned home.

During the past several days, all buildings have been draped and flags were half staff in memory of the late Harry K. Myers, who was supervisor of the town of Saugerties.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wells of this town have returned from an extended automobile tour of the New England states.

John Rourke of Syracuse spent the past week-end with his parents on Prospect street.

The vacancy made by the death of Harry K. Myers as supervisor will be filled later by the town board.

A. L. Moon of Catskill, manager of the local Sinclair Oil interest, gave a clambake to those who were employed in connection with the work of building the service station on Partition street last Sunday. The bake was held at Esopus Valley Lodge on the Esopus creek and Philip Breithaupt prepared the food. Joseph Vozdik is the local manager of this station.

Frank Brink of Lake Katrine underwent an operation at the Kingston Hospital Sunday afternoon. Dr. Snyder is attending him. Mr. Kugelman of Finger street had a finger severely injured while at his work in the Diamond Mills Paper Co.

Attorney Jaegers of Long Island spent the past few days with his sister, Miss Jaegers, on Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Suderley of Coeymans, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert DeBow and son of Newark, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Suderley of Fort Jervis were recent guests of Charles Suderley on Lafayette street.

Miss Evelyn Guadonola, an expert hair stylist, has entered the employ of Mrs. John A. Martin, owner of the Colonial Beauty Shoppe on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dixon and family, who have been visiting on Long Island, have returned to their home on Washington avenue.

The assessment roll for the town of Saugerties has been completed by the assessors of the township and a copy is on file in the office of the town clerk for 15 days, where inspection may be made.

Annual Meeting of Milk Control Agencies

Albany, Sept. 19—Three representatives of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets will take part in the program arranged for the sixth annual meeting of the National Association of Milk Control Agencies in New York city October 17, 18 and 19.

New York's representatives will be Commissioner Holton V. Noyes, Director Kenneth F. Fee of the Division of Milk Control, and Laurence L. Clough, Chief Milk Accounts Examiner, Division of Milk Control.

The meeting will be the sixth annual gathering of the association. It is expected to attract approximately 200 persons from milk control agencies of 20 states and seven Canadian provinces.

Commissioner Noyes is scheduled to make the address of welcome at the Pennsylvania Hotel. Mr. Fee, secretary-treasurer of the organization, will give his report at the opening session on Oct. 17.

"Market-Wide Pools or Individual Distributor Pools" is the subject of an address to be given by Mr. Clough at the morning session on October 18.

Among the other speakers and their topics will be Frank B. Lent, attorney for the Dairyman's League Cooperative Association, "Effect of Recent Court Decision on Compliance with Orders in Areas under Milk Control"; J. A. Rogers, secretary of New Jersey Milk Control Board, "Cash and Carry vs. Home Delivery Prices"; Parke Carpenter, Counsel to Massachusetts Milk Control Board, "Paper Containers vs. Glass"; S. McLean Buckingham, Administrator of Connecticut Milk Administration, "Possible Saving in Costs of Milk Distribution."

Also Frank Stone, Minneapolis, Minn., "Pricing Milk for Manufacturing Purposes"; Oscar Boisvert, Secretary of Quebec Dairy Industry Commission, "Effect of War Time Mobilization on the Dairy Industry"; John Candler, Secretary of Georgia Milk Control Board, "Proper and Efficient Methods of Enforcement and Collection of Penalties"; N. J. Webb, Chairman of Virginia Milk Control Board, "Effect of Milk Control on Consumption in Virginia and Adjacent Areas"; Milo Perkins, President, Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation, "The Stamp Plan as it Affects Surplus Dairy Products."

Also G. A. Norris, Secretary of Montana Milk Control Board, "Seasonal Price Fixing"; Dr. Leland Spencer, New York State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, "Effect of Milk Control on Production"; J. H. Mapes, Administrator of Oregon Milk Control Board, "Inclusion of Producer Distributors in Market Pools and Allotment Control"; O. M. Hoffman, Jr., General Manager, Interstate Milk Producers, Philadelphia, "Cooperative Associations and Milk Control," and speakers representing the Federal Government.

C. W. Humrickhouse, executive secretary of the Indiana Milk Control Board, is president of the association.

It's Adventure

London, Sept. 19 (P)—It's an adventure getting to work in London these days—and you never know until you get there whether your place of work is still standing.

For one thing, you can't tell when or where your bus is going to start, or what route it will take to reach its destination.

Today, two big double-decker buses snorted through two of the most exclusive squares of Mayfair along quiet streets where a taxi hitherto was the humblest vehicle seen.

Black-garbed housekeepers and red-vested footmen peeped from behind shutters of more or less deserted mansions to glimpse the unusual sight.

Each impromptu stopping place is the scene of a free-for-all as more weary workers try to get aboard.

Subway and streetcar tickets now are accepted on buses, too. But, even so, hundreds have to spend hours on journeys home to the suburbs.

Most motorists are obeying the injunction of the transport ministry not to leave the central London area with empty seats.

"Goodbye girls—I'm going home first class tonight," one store clerk was heard to call to her friends as she stepped daintily into a chauffeur-driven limousine.

County Endeavor Group Will Meet

Convention Will Be Held at Ponckhockie Church

The 1940 Ulster County Christian Endeavor convention will be held in the Ponckhockie Congregational Church. This event, which is the 49th annual gathering, will be held on Saturday afternoon and evening, September 28. This year's convention will celebrate the 60th anniversary of the founding of the Christian Endeavor movement.

The Rev. Forrest Edward, pastor of the Monroe Methodist Church, will be the convention speaker. "Dick" Talleur, a former president of the Dutchess County Union, has been secured to lead the singing. Featured in the afternoon session will be a series of conferences covering all departments of C. E. work. They will be conducted by Richard B. Talleur, New York state superintendent of evangelism, the Rev. Albert H. Shultis of Rosendale, the Rev. J. L. Doherty and Nelson H. Lewis, both of Kingston.

Chairmen for these conferences will be Miss Natalie Phillips of Bloomington, Miss Roberta Hotelling of Port Ewen, Phillip Sickler of Stone Ridge and Lester Tubby of Kingston. The devotional services will be conducted by Endeavorers from the First Baptist and the Bloomington societies.

Officers for the coming year will be elected during the afternoon session, and will be installed at the close of the evening service, with the Rev. John Heidenreich, pastor of the entertaining church, conducting the service.

The public is invited to the evening service which starts promptly at 7 o'clock.

60,000 Lives Have Been Saved By School Patrols

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—Declaring that the school patrol system has already saved more than 60,000 child lives, the American Automobile Association today announced that a nation-wide effort has been launched to find and to honor the farsighted leaders who pioneered the movement.

"Parents and motorists both owe a great debt to these Safety Patrol Pioneers, whose imagination and foresight were responsible for starting the national school safety patrol movement, now enlisting some 300,000 boys and girls who daily protect 8,000,000 classmates," Thos. P. Henry, of Detroit, A. A. A. President, declared. "The American Automobile Association and its affiliated motor clubs, principal agencies cooperating with schools and police in the sponsorship of patrols; desire to honor these 'pioneers' in a suitable fashion. Evidence gathered to date has indicated that patrols were started in a number of places at approximately the same time.

"Since its organization, prior to 1923, the school safety patrol movement has helped to bring about the most hopeful result in our fight against traffic accidents. While fatalities involving pedestrians of all other age-groups have risen tremendously, fatalities involving children 5 to 14 years of age dropped 32 per cent between 1924 and 1940. The National Education Association in its 1940 yearbook, 'Safety Education,' praised patrols as the most widely acclaimed part of the school safety program. It estimated that 62,000 child lives had been saved through the work of patrols and similar methods of safety education in the public schools.

"Community after community has reported year after year that not a single child has been injured or killed at a patrol-protected intersection, attesting to life-saving value of patrols. Many national leaders have commended the patrols for their citizenship and leadership training qualities.

"Eligible for recognition as a 'School Safety Patrol Pioneer' will be those persons, prior to 1923, who conceived the idea of using selected boys or girls from elementary school to daily caution and safeguard fellow-pupils in crossing the streets to and from school, their duties being prescribed by specific rules. Not only must the 'pioneer' have had the idea of such protection by selected boys or girls, but his idea must have been put to practical use by the organization of one or more patrols, one of which operated effectively for a continuous period of three years.

"Specific information on the activities of the claimant for 'pioneer' honors, with proofs in the form of dated newspaper articles, affidavits, official letters, etc., are to be submitted to A. A. A. National Headquarters in Washington before February 1, 1941," Mr. Henry added. "Judging will be by a national committee of impartial persons and presentation of awards will be made May 9-10, 1941, in Washington, D. C., at the 1941 A. A. A. National Patrol Assembly."

Wheat, Barley Seed Should Be Treated

Geneva, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Samples of certified seed stocks of wheat and barley examined in the seed testing laboratory at the State Experiment Station here are showing a remarkable freedom from disease often carried on seed wheat and seed barley, says Dr. W. F. Crosier. The outlook for field-run seed stocks, however, is not so promising, declares this authority.

Field inspections throughout central New York reveal that stinking smut of wheat is present in many fields. At least 15 per cent of the heads were smutted in several fields, while a trace to 1 per cent was commonly found. "Nine out of every ten stocks of seed wheat planted in New York state are not certified and may contain smut," warns Dr. Crosier, continuing as follows, "Even a trace of this disease may reduce the yield and quality of the crop. Wheat seed may be contaminated by smut spores carried from farm to farm in threshing machines, or the spores may adhere to wheat kernels so that seed from a

Know the Law Before Announcing How Soon Wedding Bells Will Ring

(By Feature Service)

The threat of conscription may be hurrying young couples into marriage. But in at least 30 states there are laws that require more than spur-of-the-moment agreement by the parties before the knot can be tied.

Some states require a waiting period after intention to marry is announced. Others require pre-marital health tests. Some require both.

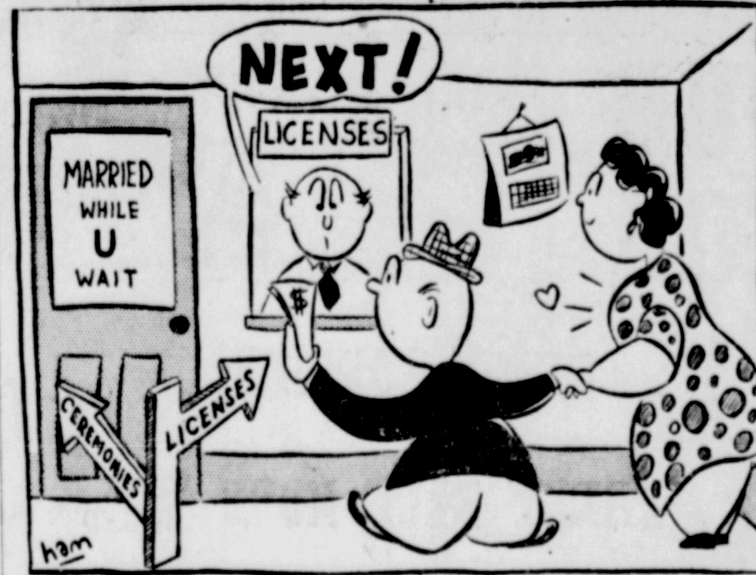

Most of the laws fixing waiting periods are directed at the so-called "Gretna Green" marriages which have aroused public opinion in various sections of the country, according to the Council of State Governments.

Twenty-three states require either advance notice of intention to wed before a license will be issued or a waiting period between issuance of the license and the marriage.

Eighteen have pre-marital health test laws, eleven of these also having statutory waiting periods.

Longest waiting period is six days, in Rhode Island. Shortest is 24 hours, in Delaware.

States with 5-day waiting periods—Connecticut, Georgia, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Ohio, Mississippi, Vermont, Wisconsin.

States with 3-day period—California, Illinois, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Colorado, North Carolina, North and South Dakota, West Virginia, Connecticut, Illinois, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Rhode Island, Wisconsin.

Tennessee and Kentucky have enacted such laws to go into effect in 1941.

Very easy to apply either with a small gravity treater or a grain scoop. Grain may be treated at any time prior to planting but the most satisfactory results are obtained when 1/2 ounce of dust is applied to each bushel of well-cleaned seed two or three days before planting. A well-ventilated place should be selected when treating seed and the odors from the dust should not be inhaled. Copper carbonate or copper sulfate will prevent stinking smut of wheat but are not effective against the covered smut of bar-

Attention Called To Newer Potatoes

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Housewives this year may want to try some of the newer varieties of potatoes which are being grown in New York state along with varieties that have been used for years.

They are urged in buying potatoes for cooking, to learn to recognize the different kinds and to choose according to the way the potatoes will be cooked and served. Recent cooking tests at Cornell indicate that no one variety or type of potato is best for all purposes. One that is ideal for baking may not be suited for boiling, while one adapted for boiling may not bake well. Hence, a selection should be made.

Home economists say that most persons prefer mealy and whiteness in cooked potatoes, and that many things may influence the dryness or meanness of this vegetable. For example, potatoes that are fully mature when harvested, and grown in light, well aerated soil, are more likely to be dry and mealy when cooked than potatoes grown and harvested otherwise. This explains why one variety or source of potatoes may vary in quality from year to year.

Is Personal Matter

Quality is regarded as a matter of personal preference. Some persons do not like a mealy, dry potato, but most persons do. As to differences in varieties, Professor E. V. Hardenburg of the New York state college of agriculture says that Green Mountain and Russet Burbank generally cook mealy and are ideal for baking. Both may slough when boiled, however. The Rural varieties generally grown in western New York are less likely to slough and are therefore well suited to boiling. Furthermore, he points out, Rural grown to maturity on good potato soil are excellent when baked.

He calls the western New York Rural potato, when properly grown and matured, a fine general purpose variety. The same is true of the Cobbler, an early variety which may be less popular because of its deep eyes.

"A few newly introduced varieties, such as Chippewa, Katahdin, Sebago, and Houma, all have the advantage of smooth, well shaped tubers which cook white. Houma is the only one of these, however, which can be said to cook as mealy and dry as the Green Mountain, Burbank, and Rural. These varieties are well adapted for boiling and frying."

Although state aid to local governments has increased $130,000,000 since 1925, property taxes, which are the principal sources of revenues for those same local governments, have skyrocketed nearly $300,000,000.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are the chief workers of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When diseased, kidney function, permeating poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smearing and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 10 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

BETTY GOES WITH HER MOTHER

Tears fill Betty Susan Eckstrom's eyes as she leaves New York court with her mother, Marion Talley, former opera singer, after hearing the court rule that she will live for the next nine months with her mother. For the past three months Betty Susan has lived with her father, Adolph Eckstrom, a voice teacher. The decision enforced a previous custody decree giving the child to Miss Talley for nine months of the year and three months to Eckstrom.

Blue Bulbs of Pacific May Stop Strange Trip

AP Feature Service
Portland, Ore.—The blue bubbles that ride the ocean currents from Japan to the breakers of Oregon and Washington may soon play out.

The "bubbles" are glass net buoys from three to 15 inches in diameter. They have been washing ashore on the American North Pacific for 15 years, to the delight of vacationists and collectors. Source of the bubbles long was a mystery. Finally the family of Mrs. Elizabeth Olsen of Portland, which collected hundreds of them, wrote the U. S. consul at Tokyo. Mrs. Olsen suspected the bulbs were buoys of some sort and guessed that they washed across the Pacific.

Information came from Consul General Arthur Garreis, who said that Japanese fishermen began using glass net buoys about 20 years ago, but that cost prevented their general use until about 1925. Since that time fishermen along the islands of Hokkaido and Sakhalin, the Kamchatka peninsula and the Okhotsk sea, have purchased about 2,000,000 of them annually. When nets are lost, net buoys break free.

For several years Japanese glassblowers blew the trade characters of the fishing companies into the glass. Fishermen use the glass buoys mainly on drag nets. A "necklace" of glass is affixed to the upper edge of the net, heavy weights to the lower. Thus the nets move through the water submerged several feet, a wall of mesh to trap the fish. Larger glass buoys mark the net position.

But soon, wrote Garreis, the buoys may float across the Pacific no more, for the Japanese have developed a paper type of net float, more durable, cheaper and easier to reclaim than the blue bubbles.

Pueblo, Colo., (U.P.)—Harry Vories was attorney in an involved traffic case. After studying the facts he cleared his throat, looked at the judge and said: "Telling how this accident occurred is going to be as difficult as explaining falling in love."

Slips in Table Etiquette
Mean Failure Socially

Brush up on the Fine Points

A mystery to his partner why the young man with the atrocious table manners was invited to this smart dinner party.

With one hand he clutches his knife, with the other dumps his Tartare sauce in one gob, prepares to spread it on his fish as if it were butter.

Like many young men, he's able enough to win the attention of influential people, but he hasn't learned the good manners that will hold their friendship. This dinner invitation won't be repeated.

And it's so simple to remember that it's correct to take Tartare sauce with a fork, to put a little on each piece of fish as you eat it. A knife when not in use is laid across the plate, never held spear-like.

Wherever you dine, feel at ease knowing table etiquette. At a restaurant, the two women in a foursome usually sit facing each other. If a fork is dropped, you appear poised if you let the waiter pick it up, bring you another.

Make your table manners an asset. Our 32-page booklet tells what's correct at restaurants, clubs, formal dinners, buffet parties, teas. Tells how to eat unusual foods, explains silver for each course.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of GOOD TABLE MANNERS to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Home Fire Hazards

The week of October 6 to 13 has been designated Fire Prevention Week by Presidential proclamation. Most home fire hazards—points out the National Fire Protection Association, sponsors—can easily be eliminated. These, which take an annual toll of 7,000 lives and $100,000,000 in property loss, are listed as: rubbish in cellars and attics; faulty heating plants; dirty chimneys, inflammable roofs; faulty electrical equipment and wiring; and explosive cleaning fluids.

There were 30,461 movie theaters in Soviet Union towns in 1939 and 18,991 in the villages.

Grape Juice Making
Subject of Circular

Geneva, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Tips to the housewife on the making of a first-class grape juice are contained in a circular issued by the State Experiment Station here in which the station bacteriologists and chemists who are making a special study of fruit juices poll their knowledge acquired in extensive researches in the utilization of fruit by-products.

"Among fruit juices, the juice from the Concord grape is one in which the flavoring substances are so well balanced that it is in itself a pleasing and refreshing drink," say the specialists, adding that "the juice has that combination of qualities, such as color, aroma, flavor, and acidity which makes a refreshing and thirst-quenching beverage. It also lends itself to dilution with water or blending with other fruit juices or carbonated beverages."

Unfortunately, however, the factors involved in the making of grape juice are so little understood that many undesirable changes may take place between the time the juice is bottled and the time it is consumed which may spoil it as a beverage. It is to aid the housewife to avoid failures due to faulty methods of making and storing grape juice that the station circular has been prepared.

The pamphlet includes directions on the pressing of the juice, on the preliminary heating or pasteurization of the juice and its temporary storage in containers to permit the crystallization and settling out of the "argols" or heavy brown sediment, and the second pasteurization and bottling. The importance of filling the bottles hot to eliminate air from the juice and from the headspace of the bottle is stressed, since the presence of air in the bottle will cause the juice to deteriorate.

Case of Protection
For the 'Protector'

Aiken, S. C. (AP)—A drapery, operated so the public may see but the judges may not, is the treasury department's solution to objections raised by federal jurists to a mural in the federal courtroom here.

The mural, designed as a background for the presiding judge, purports to represent "Justice—the Protector and Avenger."

The late Judge Frank Myers objected particularly to justice being portrayed as a barefooted woman. He ordered the mural covered.

Now the treasury department has installed a drapery operated by a cord which will allow the MILLIONS of women throughout the nation have learned that the white line is the Clorox line. And, too, it's the sanitary line, for Clorox not only bleaches white cottons and linens snowy-white (brightens fast colors) but deodorizes and disinfects. Clorox is extra-kind to cottons and linens for it contains no caustic or other harsh substances which are damaging to fabrics. Clorox is also effective yet gentle in its many personal uses. Simply follow directions on the label.

RECIPE

QUICK SKILLET STEW

• Brown 2 lbs. round steak, cut in one-inch cubes, in 4 tbs. fat. Stir in 2 tbs. flour. Add 3 cups of hot water, 3 medium carrots cut in pieces, 1 medium onion sliced, 1 tbs. salt, ½ tbs. Heinz Pure Cider Vinegar and ½ cup Heinz Ketchup. Simmer until carrots are half done. Add 4 potatoes, diced. Cook until tender. (4 servings.) Note: 2 cups cooked leftover diced meat may be used for steak.

RECIPE

HAM WITH KETCHUP SAUCE

• Fry 1 thick slice of ham slowly till brown. Combine ¼ cup Heinz Tomato Ketchup, ¼ cup cold water, 1 tbs. Heinz Cider Vinegar, 2 tsp. flour, 1 tsp. sugar, ½ tsp. Heinz Prepared Brown or Yellow Mustard. Pour over ham. Simmer on top of stove or bake in moderate oven (350° F.) half hour—turning once. Serve ham topped with sauce and garnished with fried apple rings.

Necessity the Mother—
This Time It's 16 Teeth

(Feature Service)
Greenville, S. C.—Necessity is the mother of invention. But in Henry Shuler's case, folks down

Possum Kingdom way say he just naturally has inventive genius. Neighbors figure Henry's false teeth are just about the most ingenious yet perceived. Henry needed a whole upper plate and couldn't see his way clear to pay the dentist. So he got a block of sourwood and whittled it down to where it would fit into his mouth. He still needed teeth. Mrs. Shuler had a few pearl buttons, and the first thing you know Henry had carved seven of the prettiest pearl button teeth you ever saw. He cut grooves in the sourwood plate for the teeth to fit into, and drove pins through the remaining eye in each button to hold them in place. That would have been enough for most people, but not for Henry. His lower jaw didn't have "a thing to work against." He went to work again. When he got through with his lower plate, there were seven pearl button teeth in the middle, and on each end, where the heavy duty chewing comes, there was a very adequate thick tooth made out of a hog bone. Several dentists have offered Henry a whole set of store-bought teeth for his home-made ones.

In less than four years, the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and its service affiliates have outgrown the building purchased for their occupancy in 1936 and have made arrangements to purchase adjoining territory. Personnel of the organization has grown from 600 in December of 1936 to 890 at the end of June, 1940.

The funeral of Willis Everett, who died in his home in Lake Katrine, was held from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, on Pearl street, on Wednesday morning. The Rev. Stephen W. Ryder, pastor of the Flatbush Reformed Church, officiated, and burial was in the cemetery at Lake Katrine.

The funeral of John Dillon Rodie, for more than 40 years superintendent of the Cornell Towing Company shops on the Strand, was held from the late home, 44 West Chestnut street, on Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, of the Fair Street Reformed Church, officiated. Burial was in Montrose Cemetery.

New Paltz, Sept. 19.—The funeral of Herman Foster of Prospect street, New Paltz, was held Wednesday at the Foster home in Plattkill. Mr. Foster, 51, was injured a month ago while at work with the Walsh Construction Company on the shaft for the New York aqueduct and died in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, Sunday night, September 15. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Foster and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Esther Foster, two brothers, Arthur and Myron Foster, and two sisters, Susan and Elizabeth Foster. Burial was in the Modena Cemetery.

Highland, Sept. 19.—The death of Mrs. Harriette C. Mackey, 87, occurred at 12:40 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of her son, G. Hallock Mackey, on the Milton road. She was born in New York February 1, 1845, the daughter of Benjamin B. and Sidney Marie Hall Harper. When a child they came to live on the Harper farm.

DIED

DOYLE.—At her home, 60 Hill street, Saugerties, September 17, 1940, Eva, wife of the late Everett Doyle.

Funeral from her late home Friday at 2:30 p. m. Interment in the Mountain View Cemetery, Saugerties, New York.

In loving memory of my dear mother, Mary E. Hasbrouck, who passed away 12 years ago today, September 19, 1928.

Not gone from our memories, Though gone from our side, To the land on high, so beautiful and bright.

We think of you often day by day Though 12 years have passed, Since you went away.

You were so patient, loving and true, Dear little mother, how we miss you.

Government and Business Leaders Discuss Defense

Speakers at three important meetings of industrial leaders yesterday discussed the question of cooperation between government and business in furthering the defense program. The government, as represented by Robert P. Patterson, assistant secretary of war, praised industry for its evident willingness to cooperate. He stated, in effect, that the War Department does not believe that the industrial conscription or commandeering section of the draft law will have to be invoked in the present armament program. Chairman Olds of U. S. Steel told of expansion developments of his corporation in connection with defense and contended strongly that best results in defense efforts would be obtained with private business managing its own affairs. At the same time H. W. Prentiss, Jr., head of the National Association of Manufacturers, said that a far-reaching program is under way to remove "bottlenecks" and speed up production. The program includes an inventory of all facilities; survey of research laboratories; analysis of financing and price and labor control; plans for improving health conditions.

Passage of the excess profits tax bill in the Senate is being held up by debate on the proposed Brown amendment which would make interest received on all future issues of federal, state and municipal bonds subject to full income taxation.

Electric output last week rose to 2,638,634,000 kw. Best time year and with 3,000,000 kw. all-time high. Record was the week of December 23, 1939.

At the present time the Army and Navy have "on order" close to 12,500 airplanes. Orders for almost 17,000 more are to be placed under appropriations already voted by Congress. Deliveries are being stepped up slowly.

Chairman O'Mahoney (Dem., Wyo.) of the TNEC, said that a study showed that in 1939, 26 per cent of all taxes imposed by federal, state and local governments were paid by persons whose incomes were less than $1,000 a year.

Although the list did not show consistent strength Wednesday stock prices edged further upward, with volume of 480,000 shares moderately above that of the previous day. The Dow-Jones industrials opened weak, but gradually advanced, closing at 131.28, best level of the day and a net gain of .85 point. Rails gained .08, to 28.36 and utilities were ahead .15, to 22.15.

Packard again led the list of most active stocks and gained 1/4 in turnover of 19,900 shares. U. S. Steel, second on the list, was up 3/4 and Bethlehem Steel gained 1/2. Commodities showed further improvement and the index gained 0.13 point, to 51.50, highest since September 5. Mill buying sent wheat up and the close was 1/2 to one cent a bushel higher. Cotton futures closed up three to five points. Hides, wool and rubber were active on consumer buying at higher prices.

President Weber of the National Petroleum Association told members at the Atlantic City meeting yesterday that U. S. oil firms are prepared for any crisis and can guarantee war time supplies.

The federal debt soared past the $44,000,000,000 mark yesterday, before the Treasury had begun huge borrowings for national defense. Limit is $45,000,000,000.

Truck Catches Fire

A piece of canvas under a truck, near the exhaust pipe, caught fire about 12:30 o'clock this afternoon as the truck was on the way up Wurts street hill. The firemen responded to an alarm from Box 3131, and the fire was extinguished without much damage. The truck was owned by Ira F. Canton of Pittsburgh, Mass., and was en route to Margaretville for a load of cauliflower.

Justice Permits Attorneys to See Minutes of Jury

Justice Francis Bergan has granted an application for inspection of the grand jury minutes in the Samuel Lovy and Pauline Lovy arson case. Samuel Lovy and Pauline Lovy were indicted on arson charges last year by a grand jury and application was made by Flanagan & Kaercher for an inspection of the grand jury minutes and the case which appeared on the April criminal calendar was postponed pending decision of the matter by Justice Bergan. The indictment charges the burning of a property owned by Lovy in the town of Saugerties.

Temple Emanuel Services

Services will be held in Temple Emanuel Friday evening, September 20, at 8 o'clock. Rabbi Bloom will preach on the theme, "Can These Bones Live?" the Vision of Ezekiel. The religious school of the Temple will open for registration Sunday, September 29, at 10:30 o'clock.

Dismisses Charges

New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—Holding the German library of information to be an agency of the German government and thus diplomatically immune to state laws, Magistrate Charles G. Keutgen today dismissed charges of penal code violations against Dr. Matthias Schmitz, director of the organization.

Accurate Prophecies by Five-Year-Old Child

In minuscule Trucksville, Pa., (pop. 200), near Wilkes-Barre, live Harry Harding, a manufacturer of rubber typewriter pads, his wife, and their four children. The youngest child is 4 1/2-year-old Faith Hope Charity Harding. Mrs. Harding and her daughter were in New York and photographers' flashbulbs were popping around Faith Hope Charity.

Little Faith Hope Charity was in New York to be examined by an assortment of psychic researchers and mediums who were excited by her alleged powers of prophecy. A bright little child who looks like any normal girl, she has startled the world by her series of remarkably accurate prophecies, all duly recorded by her mother. Among them: The war in Europe, the Hitler-Stalin pact, the burning of the Trucksville school, the attack on the duchess of Kent, the loss at sea of Richard Halburton.

Faith Hope Charity first disclosed her gift, says Mrs. Harding, at the age of 18 months when she exclaimed: "Mummy, Frank McWiggin is dead." McWiggin was a friend of the family. Upon calling his office, Mrs. Harding was assured that he was on a trip to New York; next day, she learned he had fallen dead the day before in a New York hotel.

"I've got so now, that when Faith's predictions seem important I have them notarized," said Mrs. Harding. "As a rule the most important prophecies come to her at night. She may be almost awake, in a trance or just on the borderland. Whoever she speaks through calls herself an Entity. Often she uses words I've never heard and usually talks in old English."

Since she came into the national headlines, Faith Hope Charity—or The Entity—has made one prediction that can be checked by millions of persons. Franklin Roosevelt, she said, would be drafted for a third term, and will run. She did not forecast the name of his opponent or the outcome of the election.

'Nickelodeon Talkies' Forseen for the Future

Since the juke-box (coin-operated phonograph) craze hit the United States, it is estimated that more than 400,000 of the machines have been installed. This number, operators believe just about represents the saturation point.

Juke-box operators have lately been looking around for a new field, reported Variety, omniscient journal of the amusement business. Both Wurlitzer, biggest juke-box manufacturer, and Mills Novelty company, makers of slot machines, Variety said, were interested in the nickel-in-the-slot talking movie machine.

Many people have been tinkering, off and on, with the idea of "nickelodeon talkies" that could be operated in bars, cafes, railroad and bus stations, and barbecue stands. The projectors, automatic in operation and requiring no projectionists, would use 16 mm. sound film—far less expensive than the 35 mm. film used in modern movie projectors. The "subjects," one nickel's worth, run about three minutes each. Present 16 mm. projectors hold about 25 minutes of playing time. As each subject ends, the motor and light automatically cut off, requiring another nickel to restart the machine.

Men who have surveyed the field estimate that there is a market for 100,000 machines the first year. Each installation would cost about $1,000.

Had No Pin

There is a story told about the early years when Thomas Edison was at Menlo Park. The electrical wizard surrounded himself with every necessity to carry on his work, and he felt proud of his equipment. On one occasion he offered a prize to anyone who could suggest any article which was useful in his work and which was not to be found in his laboratory. A young fellow won the prize by suggesting the use of a pin; Edison did not have a pin in his workshop at the time.

Prices May Be Revised

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP)—Drought and early frosts may force a third revision of federal regulations adopted two years ago to stabilize milk marketing in New York. The agriculture department has arranged tentatively for hearings October 7 in New York city, October 9 in Syracuse and October 11 in Albany to determine whether the unusual weather has increased milk production costs enough to warrant raising the price to producers under the federal-state program.

Mullen Death Is Suicide, According To Official Verdict

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 19 (AP)—A verdict of suicide by "asphyxiation due to immersion" was returned today in the death of Miss

Elisabeth Mullen, 38, Albany department store buyer, whose body was found in Nassau Lake August 27 after she went boating alone. Rensselaer County Coroner Charles J. Cote, who issued the verdict, attributed lack of water in the lungs, which prompted authorities to discard a drowning theory, to paralysis "caused by fear."

"The instant her body struck the water," he said, "the paralysis stopped muscular action. Her lungs therefore did not draw in water." The coroner asserted Miss Mullen previously had written her brother, George Mullen of White Plains, she intended to kill herself because she was "dissatisfied and discouraged with her failure to advance in her business position."

Cote's decision came after he studied a laboratory report. Microscopic changes in the lungs indicated interruption of respiration from suffocation, said Dr. Joseph Besler, East Greenbush, who performed an autopsy with Dr. George Dufty, Nassau.

Brookfield, Mo. (AP)—Speaking figuratively, a Plymouth Rock hen at the Francis Stelard place didn't even lift an eyebrow when she found three kittens with the chicks in her nest. A mother cat had carefully deposited the kits and then scotched. The hen spreads her wings over both chicks and kittens and clucked contentedly.

French Are Forced To Deliver Wheat As Well as Money

Nazis Demand 30 Million Bushels in Addition to Eight Millions in French Funds

London, Sept. 19 (AP)—Official British sources declared today that besides 20,000,000 reichsmarks (nominally $8,000,000) which France is required to pay each day for maintenance of the German army of occupation, the Germans have demanded 8,000,000 quintals (about 30,000,000 bushels) of wheat.

These quarters expressed belief that some of the grain already has been delivered. On a yearly basis the daily payment for support of the occupation troops would amount to more than 7,000,000,000 reichsmarks, these informants pointed out, comparing it with the World War decision of 1921 when reparations to be paid by defeated Germany were set at 2,000,000,000 marks a year, to rise after 11 years to 6,000,000,000.

The British sources went on to say that the total World War reparations paid by Germany amounted to 17,000,000,000 marks, while that country borrowed 27,000,000,000 abroad.

Baby Is Discovered By Plane's Pilot

Pennsylvania Police Now Search for Kidnapers

Connellsville, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP)—A youthful farming couple rejoiced today on their 13th wedding anniversary over the safe return of their "baby" son after his strange disappearance four days ago.

State police decided it was a case of abduction and set out to find the kidnapers.

Sergeant Harry C. Johnson said he believed two-year-old Ronald Rumbaugh had been "placed" in a cornfield where an airplane pilot spotted him yesterday afternoon.

The pilot flew two miles to the Rumbaugh homestead, yelled to the boy's father and others, and guided them quickly to the scene, thus ending an ever-widening search in which several dozen police and hundreds of volunteers had participated.

Hurried to a hospital, little Ronald was given milk, ordered on a liquid diet, and put to bed.

The police theory of abduction began when hospital authorities reported the boy showed no signs of fatigue or other ill effects expected if he had wandered through woods and fields countless since vanishing from his home Sunday afternoon.

Johnson said the boy's light jumper suit was "not soiled much or torn," and a new pair of white shoes he wore for the first time Sunday did not show the "wear and tear" of an outdoor tramp.

He Only Waves

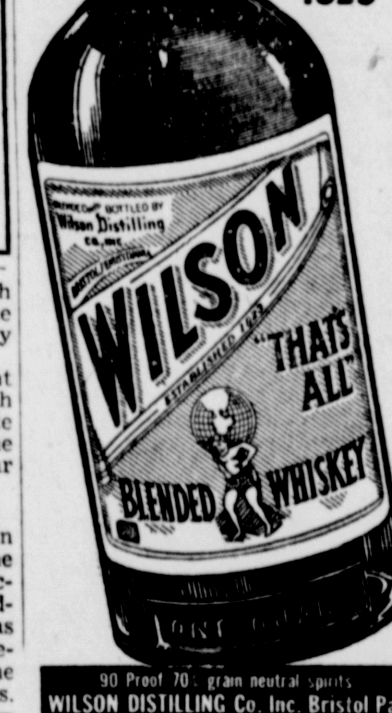

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 19 (AP)—Add this to another one of those things that are not what they seem: For two years football enthusiasts at Nebraska University have admired the man in the university band that beats the big bass drum. But, it was disclosed today, all he does is wave his hands at the cowhide. Trouble was that echoes from the giant drum caromed back onto the field several minutes after the band ended its piece, causing the conductor no end of embarrassment.

Post Season Concert Presented Wednesday

The first of three post season concerts at the Woodstock Playhouse was given Wednesday evening by Pierre Henrotte and Vladimir Padwa who appeared in a joint recital of violin and piano music.

The concert was informal and a small but deeply enthusiastic audience enjoyed the program of numbers which included the "Sonata in F Minor" by Bach for piano and violin, the piano "Concerto and Fugue in C Minor" by Bach-Petri and the "Sonata in A Major" by Franck for piano and violin.

Both artists were in excellent form, particularly so in the Franck sonata and in the third movement of the Bach Sonata in F minor.

These additional concerts which are given at nominal charge to music lovers, are an added treat to the summer series which have been arranged by Mr. Padwa, director of Playhouse music.

Two other concerts will be given Saturday afternoon, September 21, at 4 o'clock, when Frederic Balazs will be presented in a violin recital, and Wednesday evening, September 25, when Edwin Fowler, American bass-baritone, will be featured. Mr. Padwa will be at the piano for each program.

Mrs. Harold R. Rakov and son, Michael, of 117 Albany avenue, are spending a few days in Great Neck, L. I.

Miss Harriet St. John of Linderman avenue left today for Syracuse University graduate school where she will enter the School of Library Science.

Miss Barbara Rodie of 83 Albany avenue and Miss Eleanor King of 127 Fair street will return Friday to Vasars College, where they will enter their junior year.

Mrs. Emil Schoenfeld and daughter, Dorothy, and Mrs. Frederick Levere of 41 Lindsley avenue, have returned from a week's vacation at Trenton, N. J. While there they attended the wedding of Mrs. Levere's grandson, Henry Levere, Jr., and also visited Asbury Park and other points of interest.

Miss Helen Tsitsera of Ulster Park has returned to Russell Sage College to complete her senior year. Milton Tsitsera of Ulster Park has entered Cornell University to begin his freshman year.

A Regents inquiry in New York showed that $23,000,000 could have been saved on the state budget by increasing class sizes in upstate schools to an average of 30 pupils each. Instead 3,931 teachers were added to the payrolls at an additional cost of $9,900,000.

MODES of the MOMENT

Reliable and always smart are tubable classic silks such as these. The shirtmaker frock at the left has a lady-like tucked bodice, trim long sleeves, and a skirt gored for a comfortable fit. Embroidered arrowheads at the hip-line are the only un-classic touch on the other, button-down-the-front frock.

Hollywood's Male Stars to Be Exempt

Experts Give Unofficial Opinion They'll Do More Good as Entertainers

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP).—It's a good guess today that none of Hollywood's handsome young leading men will be drafted from the studios into army training camps.

Selective service experts privately expressed the unofficial opinion that stage, radio and movie stars probably would be deferred from service because of their importance to a so-called "essential industry"—essential, that is, in maintaining civilian morale by entertainment.

There will be no general exemptions for whole industries or occupations such as motion pictures, radio, theatres, railroads, air lines, automobile manufacturers, etc. Each man's case will be decided on its own merits. A board might rule, for example, that a man's industry was essential but that he himself was not essential in it, or that one plant of a big firm was essential while another was not.

New York State's budget easily exceeds the gross income of all farms in the state—including not only crops and livestock but even government contributions. And New York has the seventh largest farm income of all the states in the nation.

Personal To Fat Girls

RESORT HOTEL'S CAMP PROPER FOR TWO WELL-BEHAVED YOUNG WOMEN, SAYS EMILY POST

Just the Same as Staying at Hotel She Tells Girl—Mother Questions Propriety

If they are not afraid to be out in the woods alone at night, there is no reason why two sensible, competent, and well-behaved young women may not perfectly well take a small camp at a mountain resort. This is in answer to the question: "Is it proper for two young women to stay at a resort hotel alone? And could these same two girls take a small camp at a mountain resort, instead of staying at the hotel, without being talked about unpleasantly? Mother says the first might be possible, but not the second."

To the answer already given, I might add: If it is connected with the hotel, it would be the same as staying at a hotel, which would certainly be safe as well as a proper thing for two young women to do.

Invitations to the Wedding Reception

Dear Mrs. Post: We have no house number and no street number. In other words, we live in the country. We have never even named our house, as some people who have country houses do. Now the invitations to my wedding reception are proving a problem because in all the samples in your book the wording includes either a street number or the name of the family's house. What can we use as a substitute?

Answer: Your railroad station, or your post-office address is all that is necessary. However, if a house should happen to have a name it is usually included.

A Young Wife's Duties

Dear Mrs. Post: After their marriage, what are a young wife's duties to the relatives and friends of her husband? She is going to his town to live and knows practically no one.

Answer: It would seem to me that her greatest objective would be to make herself liked not only by her new in-laws, but by her husband's friends as well—if she wants to be really happy. In order to do this, she must go more than halfway—to be sincerely friendly, and very welcoming when they come to see her.

Wedding Boutonnieres

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) Is there a conventional choice of boutonniere for the men in the wedding party, and if so, what is it? (2) At a simple wedding, may this be anything else that might be preferred? (3) And what kind of corsage should be worn when the bride is not wearing wedding clothes?

Answer: (1) Usually carnations or one gardenia. (2) Any white flower. (3) If her dress has white trimmings, white would be most suitable—otherwise she wears whatever would look best with her clothes.

AIR VIEW OF BALTIMORE'S 15-ALARM CORK FIRE

A photographer flying over the conflagration snapped this spectacular view of the great fire at the Baltimore cork yard of the Crown Cork & Seal Company, which resulted in 15 alarms and caused damage estimated at $500,000. The fire, which destroyed a year's supply of baled cork, was still burning nearly 24 hours after it started, but was under control.

Italians Using 170,000 Troops

estimated only 150,000 troops and but few trucks could be used over the terrain available to the advance, Graziani said.

Disorder Reported

The British fled in disorder, abandoning equipment along the desert roads, losing more than half their tanks and armored cars, and suffering from shortage of gasoline and water under the bombing and machine-gunning of the Italian air force, the marshal reported.

The British had considered it impossible to spring a military surprise in the desert, where cover is lacking to conceal troop movements, the Italian commander reported, and had concentrated their motorized forces south of Sidi Omar, some miles from the coast.

The Italians then launched their attack along the coastal road toward Sidi Barrani with their left wing in a sudden change of plans.

Libyan troops marched on foot 150 miles in eight days, with only about a quart of water per day for each man, the commander said, despite suffocating heat in a sandstorm.

Conference Begins

Hitler's foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, conferred with Premier Mussolini this afternoon and on this consultation may pivot the next turn in the European war.

Linked with the talks at Il Duce's Palazzo Venezia was the possibility of a broadened war, with indications that Spain might be drawn in, at least to the extent of permitting an axis drive across her territory against Britain's Gibraltar stronghold.

The axis powers are determined on a "totalitarian" victory over Britain, according to Virginio Gayda, and in this fight to the finish other European nations are involved "not as spectators alone."

This comment by Italian Fascism's editorial spokesman-in-chief gave considerable point to the axis council of war. Observers interpreted it as a reference to Spain's potential role.

Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and German and Italian ambassadors to each other's capital, Hans-George Vilk-tor von Mackensen and Dino Alfieri, respectively were present at the Palazzo Venezia meeting. It started shortly after 5 p. m. (10 a. m. correct E.S.T.)

Von Ribbentrop had come to Rome on an armored train like that given to Mussolini by Hitler. German troops manned anti-aircraft guns on the carriages.

Police Court Cases
Peter Malia, of Edgewater, N. J., and Oscar Countryman of 139 Hunter street, pleaded guilty to public intoxication in police court today and were fined $5 each by Judge Matthew V. Cahill. The judge also imposed a fine of similar amount on Robert Debold of Pittsburgh, Pa., charged with disorderly conduct in using profane language on Broadway at Chester street.

Judge Authorized To Select Draft Boards in County

In addition to the draft board in Kingston, for which names were recommended Wednesday by Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman, there will be three boards in the county district, and under the law County Judge Andrew J. Cook will make recommendations for these boards. Three names are to be recommended to the governor for appointment by the President.

Today Judge Andrew J. Cook stated that he had just received notification of the power invested in him as county judge to make the recommendations and he stated that while he had given the matter considerable thought, he had not as yet selected the names required but would name his choice within the next day or two.

Boys Arraigned

Five High Falls boys, ranging in age from 12 to 14 years, are to be arraigned before Judge A. J. Cook in children's court, on charges of juvenile delinquency, following their arrest Wednesday by Troopers Reilly and Judge of the B. C. I. They have been paroled in the custody of their parents pending the hearing. The boys are alleged to have been implicated in the burglary of two summer cottages owned by A. L. Hasbrouck of Kingston. Articles valued at around $20 were taken from the cottages and included a camera, fishing tackle and other items.

Court Recedes

County court recessed today until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Sentence Suspended

Harold Franklin, 33, of Arena, was arrested at that place yesterday by Trooper McGarvey and turned over to Deputy Sheriffs Brown and Segelken, who arraigned him before Justice Friend Wilkoff of the town of Rochester on a charge of defrauding a boarding house keeper. The justice sentenced Franklin to 60 days in the Ulster county jail, but suspended execution of the sentence. John J. McDonald, who had been held on a similar charge, was arraigned before Justice M. D. Schoonmaker. He received a 90 days suspended sentence after he had made good for the amount owed.

Six Go to Jail

Six men were brought to the Ulster county jail Wednesday night to serve jail sentences, following arrests made by Trooper William Martin of Marlborough, charges being disorderly conduct and public intoxication. Sentenced for 30 days each by Justice John Rusk, Jr., for disorderly conduct, were Charles Madison, 55, of Albany; George Gallagher, 36, of San Francisco; and Kent Ellis, 40, of Chicago. Robert Boland, 40, of Birmingham; Frank Shea, 36, of Syracuse; and Matthew Leahy, 49, who said he had no home, were jailed for five days each, in default of $5 fines imposed by Justice P. A. Lyon on intoxication charges.

Indictment Is Voted

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 19 (AP)—An indictment, charging murder in the first degree, was voted by the September grand jury today against Miss Mary E. B. Jones, 38, accused of killing her closest friend at their home in Hastings on Sunday. Assistant District Attorney Frederick E. Weeks, Jr., said that he would apply to County Judge Frank H. Coyne for an order appointing two alienists to examine Miss Jones, now under observation at Grasslands Hospital, and to report on her sanity.

new type showered on the London area during the 12th successive night-long raid, lasting nine hours and 34 minutes, and countless fires were set. Mayfair again suffered heavily.

The destruction spread from one rim of the city to another.

But even so, said the British, the great city's communications were not disorganized and its population—under air raid alarm two thirds of the time since Tuesday night—was not demoralized.

Axis diplomatic attention was focused on Rome where German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop journeyed today for conversations on the next moves of Germany and Italy.

Berlin commentators pictured a "brave new era" just around the corner—a world without a dominant Britain. Germans said "action—not words" would be the theme of the Rome discussions. Hints were thrown out that the future of Spain, Egypt—and even distant America—in the setup to come conceivably might be among the broader subjects discussed.

The British bided their time in Egypt, waiting to choose their own place for a major stand against Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's advancing Italian legions.

British bombers made a heavy attack on Fascist troops at Sidi Barrani, 60 miles inside the Egyptian frontier.

Cured, by George!

Kansas City, Sept. 19 (AP)—Dr. Warren T. Vaughn, Richmond, Va., told a health forum this story: Two girls, apparently allergic to all types of clothing, asked his advice. "Facetiously, I suggested they join a nudist colony. By George, one of them did and she was cured, too."

White Sox Divide With Yanks; Greenberg Hits 3 Home Runs; Giants Lose to Chicago

(By The Associated Press)

While the American League has been muddling around for two weeks like so many rabbits in a pen, the Cincinnati Reds have topped their second straight National League pennant with an impressive display of decision and dispatch.

Their 4-3 triumph in 13 innings over the Phillies yesterday was their 16th victory in 18 games. A blistering finish, that may have an important bearing on the world series.

It used to be the other way around. The American Leaguers would show up early with a great show of invincibility and pounce upon their prey when the National League delegate finally arrived all out of breath. The Reds didn't stave off the rush of the St. Louis Cardinals last year until September 28, three days before the season closed, and they practically collapsed into the pit the Yankees had waiting.

But now it is the American League that is locked in a death struggle. The Cleveland Indians were so desperate yesterday they called out Bobby Feller with two days' rest to face the seventh-place Washington Senators. But strategy worked, and the tribe triumphed in both ends of a doubleheader, 3-1 and 2-1, to regain first place. But it might boomerang when the Indians open a three-game series with Detroit tomorrow.

The Philadelphia Athletics, the same tag-alongs who knocked Cleveland off the top perch Tuesday, scored nine runs in the second game of their double bill at Detroit yesterday to get a split and force the Tigers out of the lead. With the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox dividing their double feature, the standings are:

W L Pct. GB TP

Cleveland ... 84 61 .579 ... 9

Detroit ... 83 61 .576 ½ 10

New York ... 79 64 .552 4 11

Chicago ... 79 66 .545 5 9

Cincinnati ... 70 73 .490 ... 24½

New York ... 66 75 .468 ... 27½

Boston ... 61 82 .427 ... 33½

Philadelphia ... 46 96 .324 ... 48

Cincinnati hardly could be blamed for snickering at that sort of a spectacle, with the lead changing hands six times in ten days. As far as their own race is concerned, the Reds have been in first place continuously since July 7, and never worse than third any time this year.

Vander Meer Wins

The honor of clinching the flag fell to Johnny Vander Meer, as a bit of added drama. The no-hit king showed signs of his old self as he kept eight hits scattered and struck out ten. Then, in the 13th, he led off with a double and scored the winning run.

The St. Louis Cardinals, of all clubs, gave the Reds an assist by crushing the Brooklyn Dodgers, 14-7, with a 17-hit bombardment that included four singles by Johnny Mize good for six runs. This left Brooklyn 12 games behind with ten to play. The Reds have 13 to go and could lose them all without harm.

Cleveland's opening victory over Washington was credited to the six-hit pitching of Johnny Allen, but Lefty Ken Chase of the Senators forced in all three of the Indians' runs with walks to help Feller was practically untouchable with five-hit hurling in the nightcap.

The tragedy of the Tigers was that they won their first game from the A's, 14-0, and weren't able to save any of this margin for the second session. In the first game, Tommy Bridges went so well he was pulled out in the seventh to rest for Cleveland. Hank Greenberg hit two homers, one with the bases loaded. Then, in the night cap, Detroit got a 6-4 lead on homers by Greenberg and Rudy York and collapsed in the ninth, giving nine runs. Bob Johnson hit a three-run homer in this frame. Benny McCoy had done the same in the fourth.

Chicago came close to passing over the Yanks into third place, and 37,000 ardent southsiders were present for the kill. Lefty Thornton pitched six-hit ball as the Sox won the first game, 6-3. In the second game, the Yanks led off with four runs in the first, but Chicago came right back with five and added three more in the fourth. Then Twink Selkirk homered with two on in the seventh; the Yanks got two more in the eighth, and darkness closed the show before Chicago could do anything about it.

The St. Louis Browns squeaked the Boston Red Sox, 11-2, with a 14-hit offensive.

Jackets to Practice

The Kingston Yellow Jackets will hold another practice session tonight at the Athletic Field starting at 6 o'clock. All members are requested to attend.

A Cleveland scribe reported that Manager Bill Terry of the Giants "admitted privately he would gladly come to Cleveland under certain conditions," which include "an absolutely unchained hand in the management of the team and possibly some role in front office affairs, as well." It was said that Terry's name had been mentioned in discussions among the Indian rebels, and that President Alva Bradley of the Tribe respected Col. Bill for his baseball and business ability. However, Terry has a hold-over contract with the Giants at a annual salary of $40,000 or more.

City Softball League Results

The Dairymen Again
Jones Dairy won the City Softball championship for the second successive year last night when the reliable J. Y. A. team again forfeited. The Dairymen won 27 out of 28 games during the season. The Dairymen swept through the first half winning all 14 games but dropped the opener of the second round. The champs went on to win the remaining 13 games to score the most impressive win ever seen in local mushball history.

Warren Giles Is Hoping Tigers Win American League

Giles Head Believes His Club Would Do Better With Detroit; Men Praise Wilson

Philadelphia, Sept. 19 (AP)—The champions of the National League, the Cincinnati Reds—don't care that team wins the American League pennant, but General Manager Warren Giles hopes it's Detroit.

Giles watched his club clinch their second straight flag by coming up from behind yesterday to beat the Phillies, 4 to 3, in 13 innings as Brooklyn lost to St. Louis.

"We'd probably draw more in dollars and cents if we played Cleveland," Giles said. "But on the other hand we might not. There might be $80,000 in the Cleveland stadium one day and then drop off. Then that dissection sort of takes the bang out of it."

"In spite of what a lot of people might think, ball clubs consider more things than money. I don't care who wins the American League pennant—we'll beat whoever it is—but I think we'd do better with Detroit than any other team."

"The Reds whooped it up in their dressing room after Southpaw Johnny Vander Meer scored the winning run in the 13th, but the celebration was reserved for tonight. The boys want Paul Derringer to win his 20th game against the Phils today."

"We'll celebrate tonight," exclaimed Manager Deacon Bill McKechnie. "We have a day off tomorrow. Today we play ball. The boys deserve a celebration."

McKechnie had heaps of praise for Jimmy Wilson, 40-year-old coach who returned to active duty behind the bat after Ernie Lombardi was hurt.

"I don't believe anyone realizes what Jimmy has meant to this team," the coach said. "When we were in that Brooklyn series and every game was a money game, it was Jimmy who pulled us through. It was Jimmy who caught the rest of the game when Lombardi sprained his ankle and it was Jimmy who caught the next two wins over the Dodgers. It was Jimmy who really put us over the top."

Y. M. C. A. Swimming Team Engages Date for Sept. 24

The Y. M. C. A. swimming team will meet the Newburgh Y. M. C. A. Club Tuesday, September 24. The swimmers will represent the local team.

Those listed are Emil Talcott, Joe Heidcamp, Remberto Junara, Bob Michelson, Jim Evory, Constantine Slater, Russell Bishop, and Strang and Jim Farrell.

Last year the Newburgh contingent, led by Joe Prokosch, walked the locals. In three meets to date Kingston has been victorious at each event. They have completed a successful summer season swimming under the banner of the Williams Lake Athletic Club.

The team will hold an election for a captain Friday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

Joe Beggs, the "fireman" of Cincinnati's pitching staff, and Insider Eddie Joost of that club were made honorary members of Cincinnati's fire department by Chief Barney Houston last week.

Harry Hartman, WCPO sports announcer, presented the fireman's keys to Beggs in behalf of Chief Houston.

The seven night games at Cincinnati drew a total of 177,967 customers this year, with the highest of 30,543, September 4, the game with Pittsburgh the highest in light turnout of the season at Crosley Field.

The Bees, who were in the cellar, August 1, played at the fastest in the league from that date to September 3, during which they won 24 games and lost 14 for a percentage of .632.

Mel Ott, thanks to his short time and years of autographing experience, can autograph 500 baseballs in an hour.

Cincy Fans Aren't Enthused as Reds Cop Second Title

City Is Quiet This Year as Redlegs Make It Two in Row; Last Year Had High Interest

Cincinnati, Sept. 19 (AP)—A year ago next week, followers of the national sport in this town were whooping themselves hoarse, kissing perfect strangers, doing hand-springs across the suspension bridge, and acting in general as if somebody had just gone the length of Vine street tossing negotiable bonds out of a barrel.

Today there is a strange calm, as dead as the geometric center of a vacuum, spread over the Queen City. Solid citizens are going about their beer and skittles as if nothing had happened.

Last year the Reds won their first pennant in 20 years and this year they won their second in 21. But for all the excitement, you'd think the Red fans were New Yorkers, who have had pennants in one league or the other for a good part of two decades.

R. P. I. Gridders Have Eight Games

40 Men Have Reported for Practices

With over 40 men in uniform and a few scrimmages under their belts, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's gridders are pointing toward their opening game against Trinity College Saturday, September 28, in Hartford, Conn.

The following is the schedule for the R. P. I. gridders: September 28—Trinity College at Hartford; October 5—Hamilton, home; October 12—United States Coast Guard Academy, away; October 19—Drexel, away; October 26, Union, home; November 2, Vermont, home; November 9—Worcester, away; November 16—Mass. State, home.

"We'll celebrate tonight," exclaimed Manager Deacon Bill McKechnie. "We have a day off tomorrow. Today we play ball. The boys deserve a celebration."

It'll Take Real Champ to Win 3-Way American Loop Dogfight

(AP Feature Service)

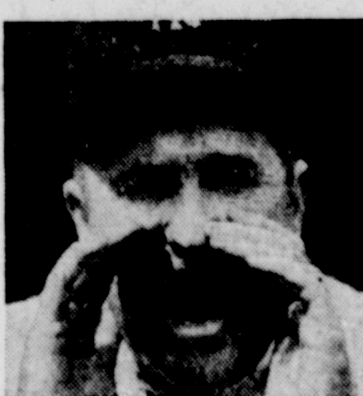

In recent years the National League has provided all the last-month fun in baseball—the Yanks were always too far ahead in the American loop. Not so this year. While Cincinnati coasts along in the National, the junior league is offering one of the most interesting pennant fights in history. Here's how the contenders stack up.

Yankee pitching mainstay is veteran Red Ruffing. When other old-timers faded, only the sensational work of young Marv Russo, Rookie Ernest Bonham and Relief Hurler Johnny Murphy lifted the champs.

Yankee hitters (team average about .260) are paced by Joe DiMaggio (.340). Loss of Tom Henrich left Joe as only man above .300—but Rolfe, Gordon, Rosar, Dickey, and others give Yankee attack timely power.

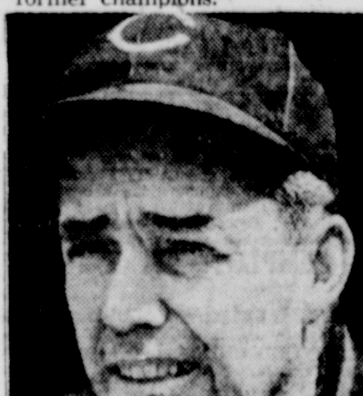

Yankee manager is Joe McCarthy whose smooth-working machines have won four World Series in a row. New Yorkers, in their big rally, showed the poise, power and spirit of his former champions.

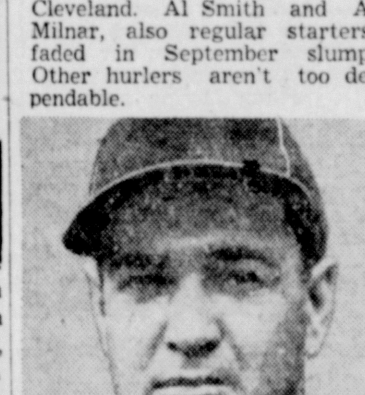

Indian pitching ace (and class of the league) is Bob Feller, expected to win 27 games for Cleveland. Al Smith and Al Milner, also regular starters, faded in September slump. Other hurlers aren't too dependable.

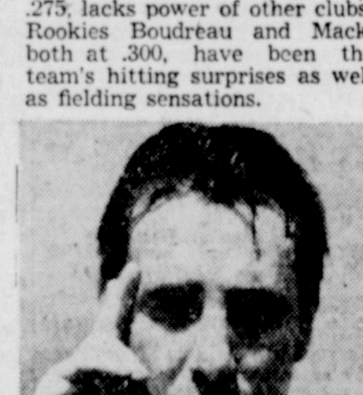

Indian hitting star, with Trotts hurt, is Roy Weatherly. Cleveland has been hitting about .275, lacks power of other clubs. Rookies Boudreau and Mack, both at .300, have been the team's hitting surprises as well as fielding sensations.

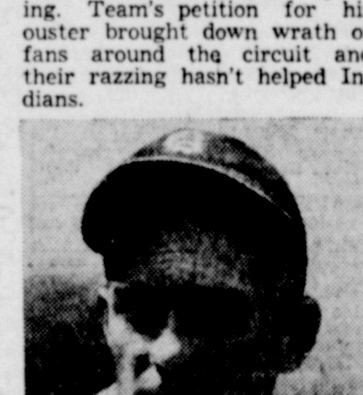

Indian manager, Oscar Vitt, has been able to do little managing since mid-season players' uprising. Team's petition for his ouster brought down wrath of fans around the circuit and their razzing hasn't helped Indians.

Tiger pitching key is burly Buck Newsom, aiming for 20 games. Schoolboy Rowe and Rookie Gorsica, along with Tommy Bridges, have helped keep Detroit near top. Newhouse could help with his early form.

Tiger hitting ranks show five men above .300, led by Hank Greenberg. His 329 odd average and some 115 runs batted in head a parade of power-hitting companions: McCook, Gehring, Sullivan and York.

Tiger manager, Del Baker, has moved Detroit along at smooth pace. His shift of Greenberg to the outfield to permit York's power to be added at the plate has worked out as the year's strategical masterpiece.

Bowlers Will Use Average System During This Year

Keglers at Emericks Elect Jack Martin as Presxy; Season Starts on September 25

At the final meeting of the new average league at Emerick's Bowling Academy the following men were elected to hold offices for the season 1939-40: President, Jack Martin; vice-president, William Mergendahl; secretary, Kenneth Van Etten; treasurer, Al Goldman. Besides the election of officers it was voted to join the Kingston A.B.C. Association. Final arrangements were started to open the season on Wednesday evening, September 25, at 9 o'clock.

The league will be composed of 40 men. Averages of men will be taken in order to set the team's averages as near as possible. In hopes of preventing any one team from copying all the honors, the league has been made this way.

At the end of 14 weeks' schedule a team is far out in front of the others, the members will be taken according to their average and transferred to another club. This keeps interest in the league until the last week of play.

Other good points are seen in this new form of organization. Anyone can bowl whether he has an average of 190 or 120. It also makes evenly balanced teams. It also avoids setting of average standard for the league.

The following are requested to attend the meeting at Emerick's Friday night at 8 o'clock: Jack Martin, William Mergendahl, Ken Van Etten, Al Goldman, Harold Broskie, John Fredericks and Asbury Gilbert.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Norfolk, Va.—Ken Overlin, 165, Decatur, Ill., recognized in New York and California as middleweight champion, outpointed Irish Eddie Pierce, 162, Paterson, N. J. (10).

Witt Guise, 32-year-old rookie with the Reds who came up recently from the Columbia Sally League team, is baldheaded. But he also looked the part of a capable pitcher in his first test on the main line, showing good control of a dandy cross-fire.

Government Signs Contracts for 9,174 Combat Airplanes

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP)—Secretary Stimson announced today that the war department had signed contracts since July 1 for 9,174 of 18,641 war planes for which Congress has provided funds at this session.

Reviewing progress made by the army in reinforcing defenses in the last three months, Stimson said the figures were for airplane purchases "as of today."

At the same time Stimson in a series of announcements, disclosed tentative plans to call to active duty approximately 37,000 National Guard officers and men in November. They will compose the third and fourth National Guard regiments to be called out.

Under present plans, no further units than will be ordered to service before January 3.

Opposition Is Voiced to Reservoir Closing

Freeman Photo

Sportsmen and county officials from this vicinity met at the municipal auditorium last evening to launch a drive in opposition to an effort to have Governor Herbert H. Lehman close the Ashokan and other New York city owned reservoir property to fishing and boating. Among those who publicly protested at the meeting were Nelson Snyder, seated left, president of the Ulster County Fish and Game Association, and Dave O'Neil, right, president of the Putnam County Fish and Game Association, and Putnam County Councilman for the New York State Conservation Council. Standing left, is Howard Myers, vice-president of the Ulster County Fish and Game Association, and Roscoe Elsworth, county attorney, who represented the Board of Supervisors at the meeting.

shirts on in reference to the matter death with in your letter of September 5. Personally I agree with the President that this crisis which this country is facing is a very real and serious one—the most serious since the Civil War.

"New York city is extraordinarily vulnerable to Fifth Column sabotage, and if I were the mayor of New York city charged with the welfare of its people I would certainly take every precaution possible to protect such a particularly vulnerable spot as the New York city water supply.

"Of course I want the fishermen to have the privilege of fishing in the waters of New York city's water supply. But certainly the safety of the people of the city of New York even the smallest chance of sabotage must come ahead of recreational needs.

"Personally I am going to suspend judgment in the matter until I hear more about it and know more about it. The sportsmen will be quite right in stating their point of view but I believe that they should realize just what is at stake and suspend judgment until they also know the full facts and what the city of New York proposes to do.

"It is entirely possible that a compromise can be worked out under which regulations will be more strict than in the past but which will not exclude fishing except at certain points."

After reading the letter he had received from the commissioner, Mr. O'Neil said, "now you know where Commissioner Osborne stands in the matter."

Too Drastic Action
County Judge Andrew J. Cook said that he was surprised at the proposed act of the city of New York. Fishing in the Ashokan reservoir, he said, was one of the few privileges still permitted. The judge said he heartily endorsed the petition that had been prepared.

"The situation today is not as grave as in the days of the World War," said Judge Cook, "and at that time no such drastic action was taken. The judge said he was in full accord with the steps that were being taken to defend this country against any other nation but he was opposed to depriving fishermen of their pleasure when no emergency existed.

Judge Cook said that it appeared to him to be an unnecessary harsh measure. He said he did not know what influence he had, if any, with the governor but he would be willing to write a letter to Governor Lehman protesting the closing of the reservoir to fishing.

President Snyder expressed the hope that Judge Cook would write the letter he had suggested.

Conway Protests
Assemblyman Conway recalled that in other years New York city had attempted similar action to that now proposed, and said that from his experience with New York city "it was fully capable of pulling off a fast one."

"We know," he said, "that New York city wants to exclude us from reservoir property."

Assemblyman Conway questioned the existence of any emergency that made necessary the barring of fishing. "If New York can prove to us that there is a real danger," he said, "and that this was the only real way to safeguard the reservoir from sabotage it would be a different proposition."

"This is no time for war hysteria," said Assemblyman Conway, "we are all in favor of placing our nation in a position of defence where it can successfully defend itself against any other nation in the world."

Will Be Present
Assemblyman Conway said that he proposed to attend the public hearing in Albany and would oppose the closing of the reservoir to fishing. He said that he believed that the governor should deny the petition of New York city at this time.

County Attorney Roscoe V. Elsworth said that in his opinion the whole question hinged on whether the governor decided that an emergency exists. He said that he had spoken with a number of the members of the board of supervisors and that one of the petitions that had been prepared would be submitted to them for signature. He believed that every supervisor would sign, and said he expected that he would attend the hearing in the interests of Ulster county.

Several others also spoke protesting the proposed closing of the reservoir.

Two Slightly Hurt

Frank Marziano of Tillson suffered an injured arm and Robert Reis, a boy riding a bicycle was slightly injured, according to reports made to police headquarters on Wednesday afternoon. Marziano, according to the report, walked from behind a parked bus on Albany avenue into the side of a car driven by John Brophy, 23, of 74 Andrew street. John Canfield of 207 Washington avenue reported that the Reis boy had ridden his bicycle into the side of the auto, and suffered slight injuries. The boy was taken by Mr. Canfield to the Kingston Hospital for treatment.
